'71 SHIELD

St. George's School
Spokane, Washington

We, the class of '71, wish to dedicate this annual to Jim Stecher --bus driver, and most of all, friend. Could we have made it without him? Monday mornings without his smile? The winter 2:40 rush if he hadn't cleared the road? He smiled and gave us the back-talk we always wanted.

Jim was here when we came; he'll be here when we leave. Take care of him you guys.

TRANCE

And there were days stranded dangling
Like slender leaves
on a willow branch
Clouds rising like smoke to the shadows
of the universe
Kites tangling with the wind
Their colors disappearing in the sunlight
We clutched
our knotted twine and ran in fields below.
Poets, prophets, pranksters jesters
Like jugglers we tossed the orbs of time.
Smouldering echoes of disappearing days Break in fragments
like ancient dreams
Cobweb memories
--a delicate wilderness.
The intersections of experience form the images of self.

SENIORS

VIRGINIA CARPENTER BARRETT

See that girl down there?
Yeah, the one talking to those two invisible birds--Roger and Matilda.
That's Ginny. . . photographer. . . head assistant to the leaf fairy. . . cheerleading. . . long, streaming hair. . .
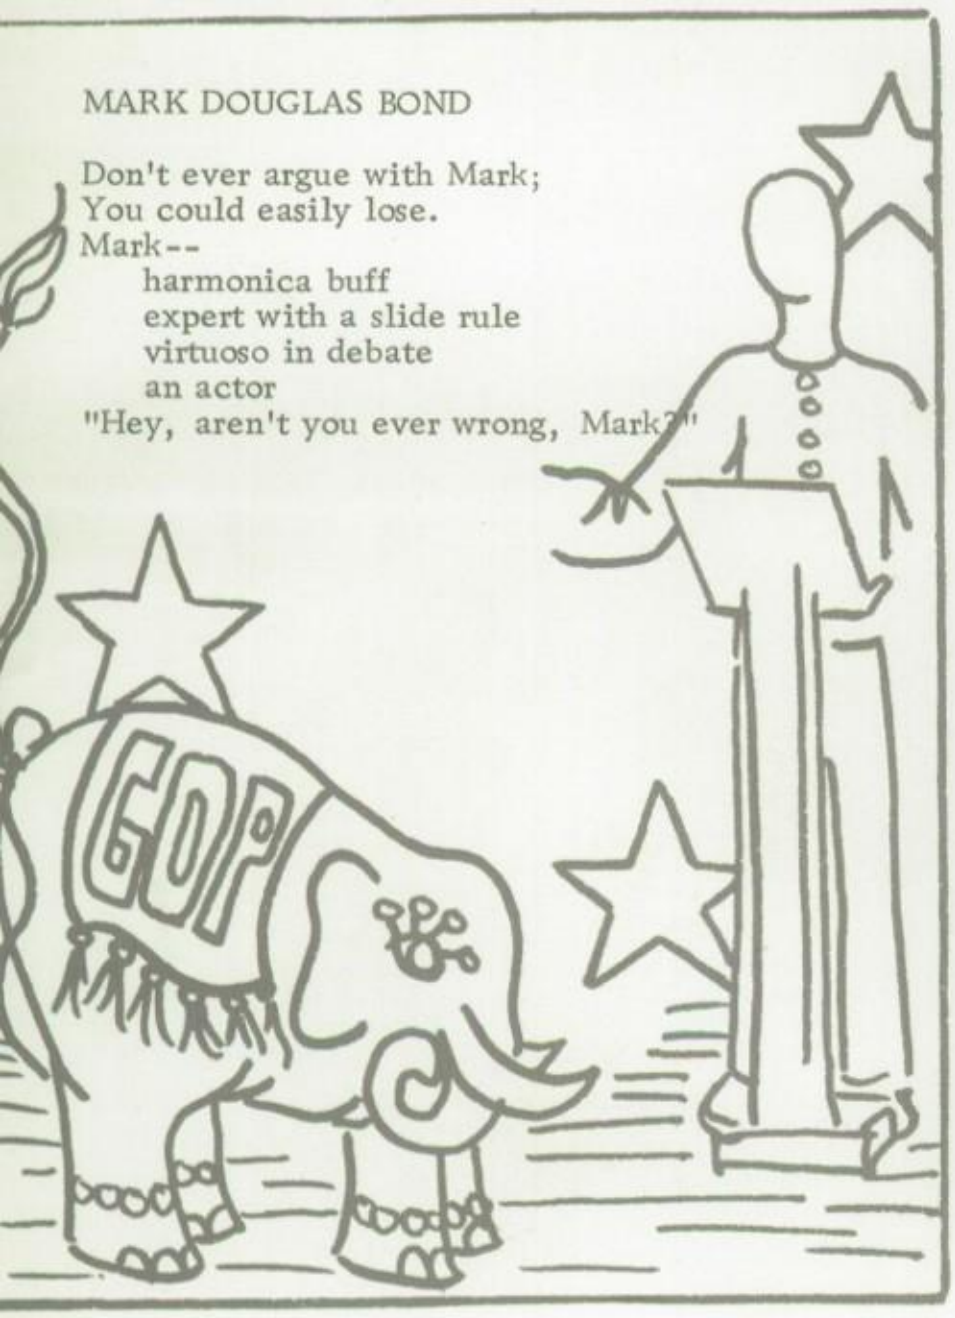
Beaver. . . pranks. . . joy. . . laughter. . .
Watch out world; she's coming!



MARK DOUGLAS BOND

Don't ever argue with Mark;
You could easily lose.
Mark-- harmonica buff
expert with a slide rule virtuoso in debate
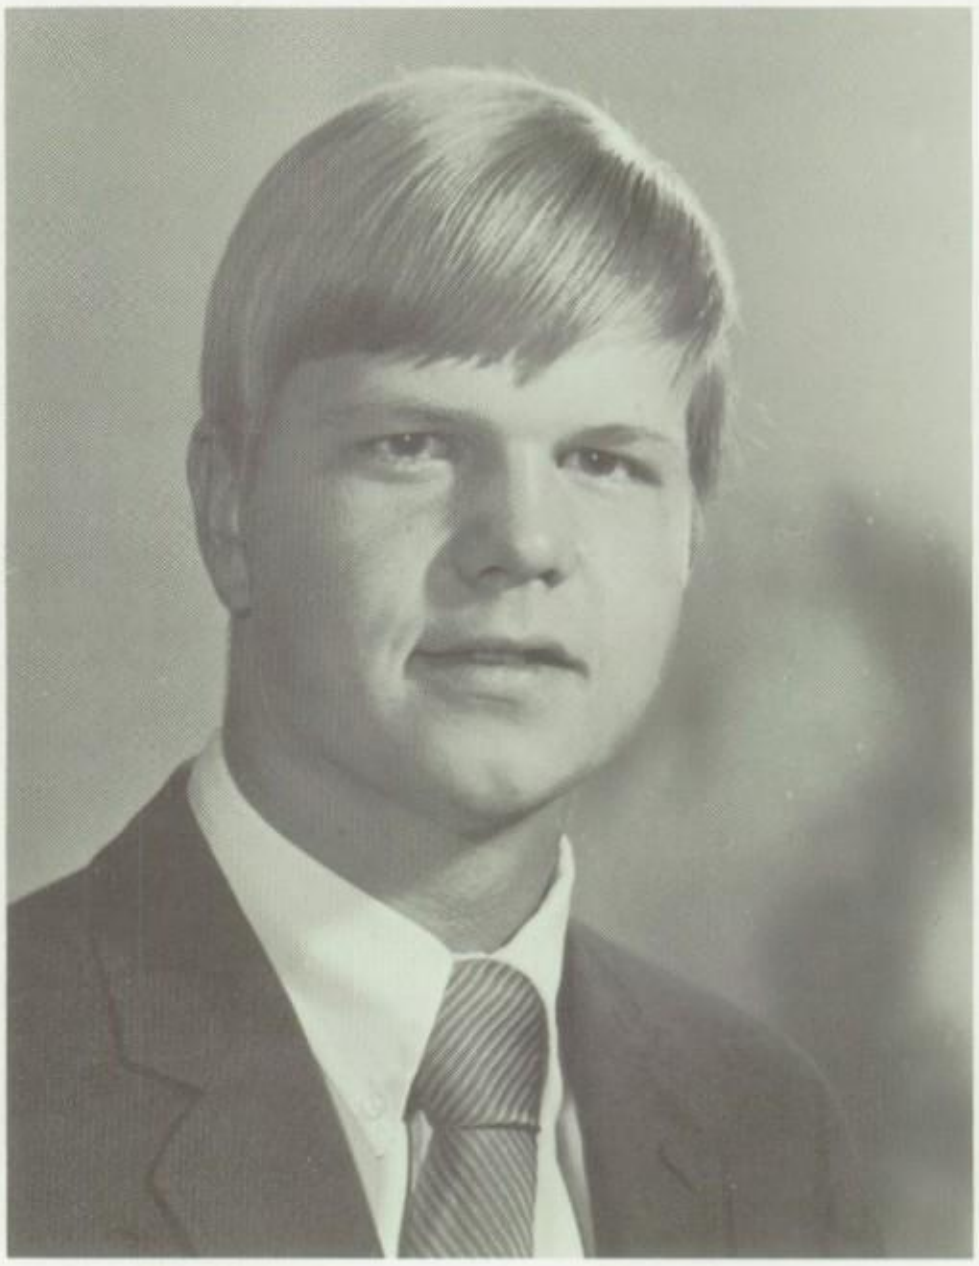
an actor
"Hey, aren't you ever wrong, Mark?"



ALLEN GREGORY BRUCE

"Bruce? Craig? Allen? Oh! Sorry, Greg."
What contributions!
Nights of freezing to death behind the Y drive-in
And enjoyable evenings at the B. A.
Cross-country... the grueling ~~3-day~~
Whitefish Wake-A-Thon... skiing ~~grace~~- fully down snow-covered slopes... unusual arguments... clicking shutters at anything the darkroom would allow...
'Tis a shame not to tell it all,
but there just isn't room

DOROTHY CADZOW BRACKEN

Behold,
this dreamer cometh
in high-water pants to speak of Alfred Lord and tissue paper lives fading in the rain.

BRUCE PAUL CALKINS

Who else can walk like a 96 year old man, then win athlete of the year award?
Hide in a corner, ever so shy and innocent, then become an uproar at the parties and tell the world's earthliest joke?
Maintain an "A" average by going to bed at 7:30
on week nights?
Not to mention driving a beat-up, old Rambler like Mario Andretti.
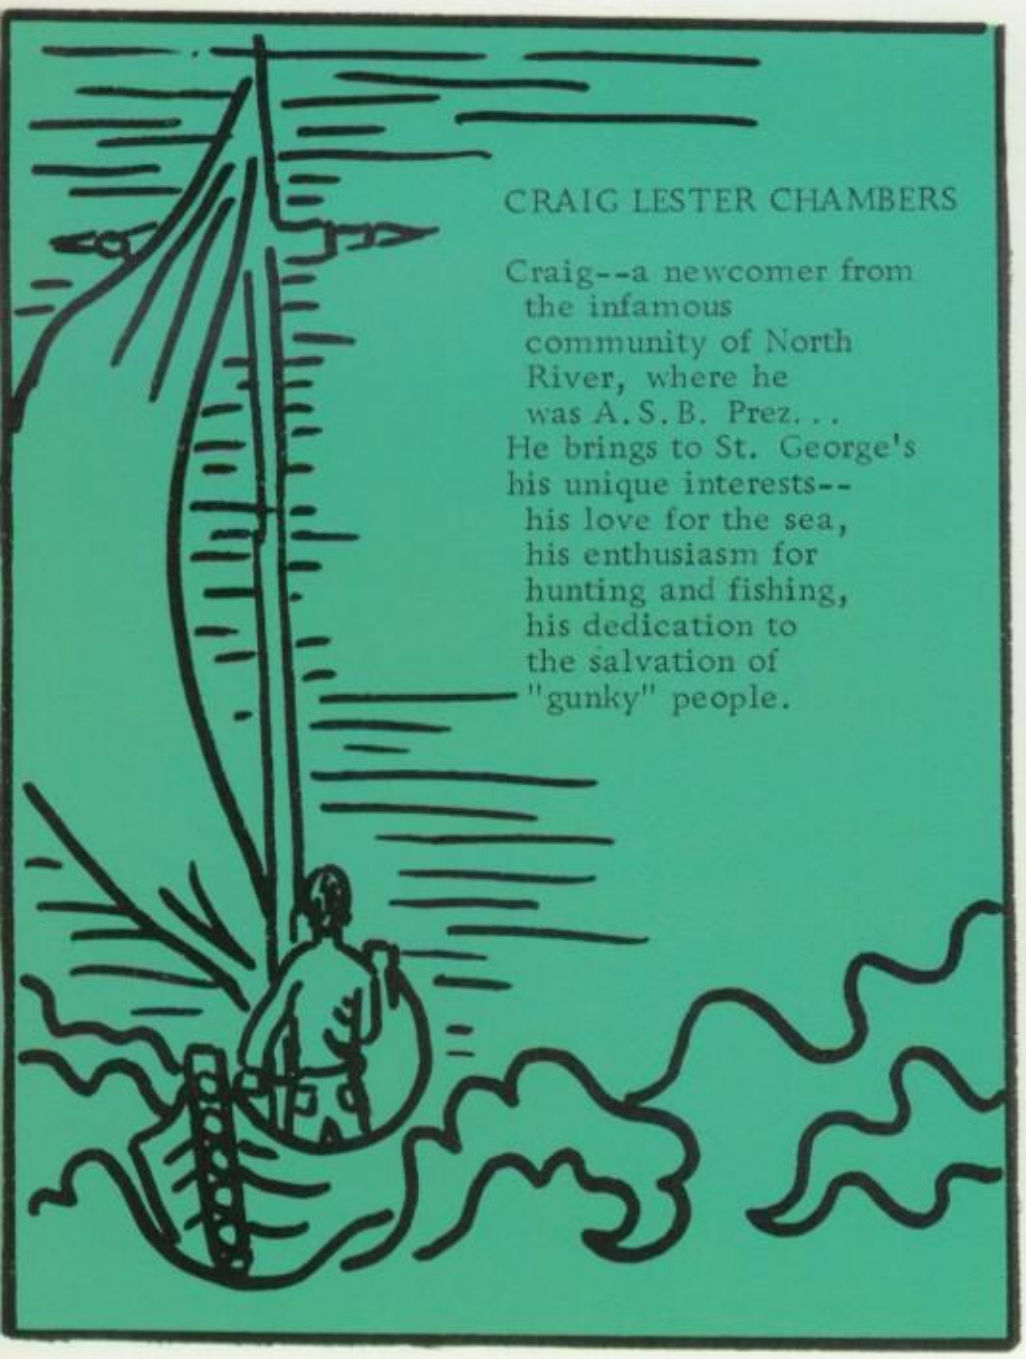
Amazing, all these and more!
Bruce, you'll never be forgotten!



CRAIG LESTER CHAMBERS

Craig--a newcomer from the infamous community of North River, where he was A.S.B. Prez. . .
He brings to St. George's his unique interests-- his love for the sea, his enthusiasm for hunting and fishing, his dedication to the salvation of
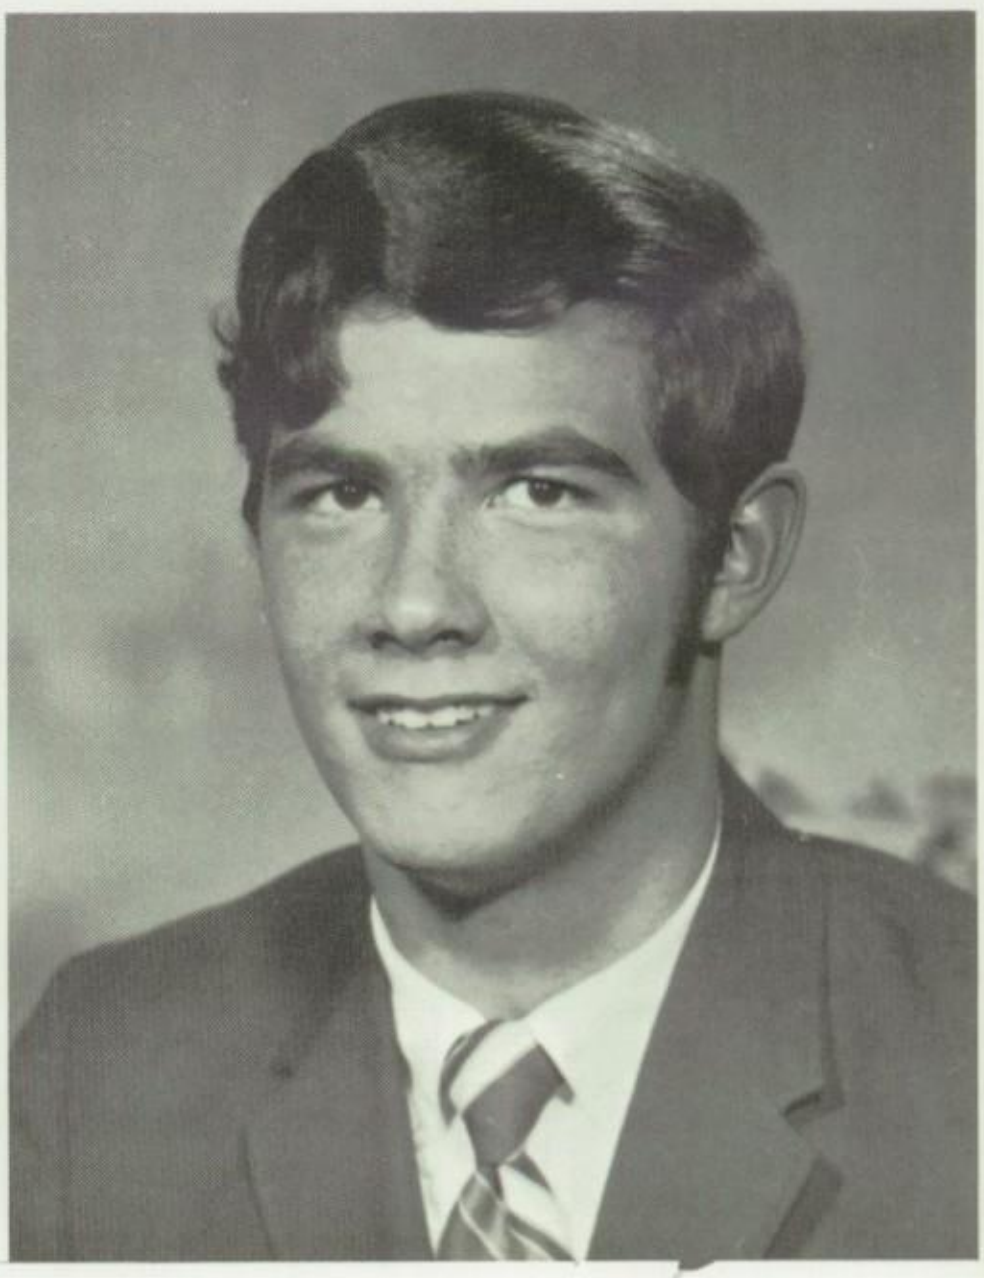
"gunky" people.



GEORGE MONTGOMERY DREHER

Few could be more deserving of the activity pin than Monty.
Always out for sports
Always ready to pitch in and help Supporting the school with time and effort
With his way of looking at the funny side of things
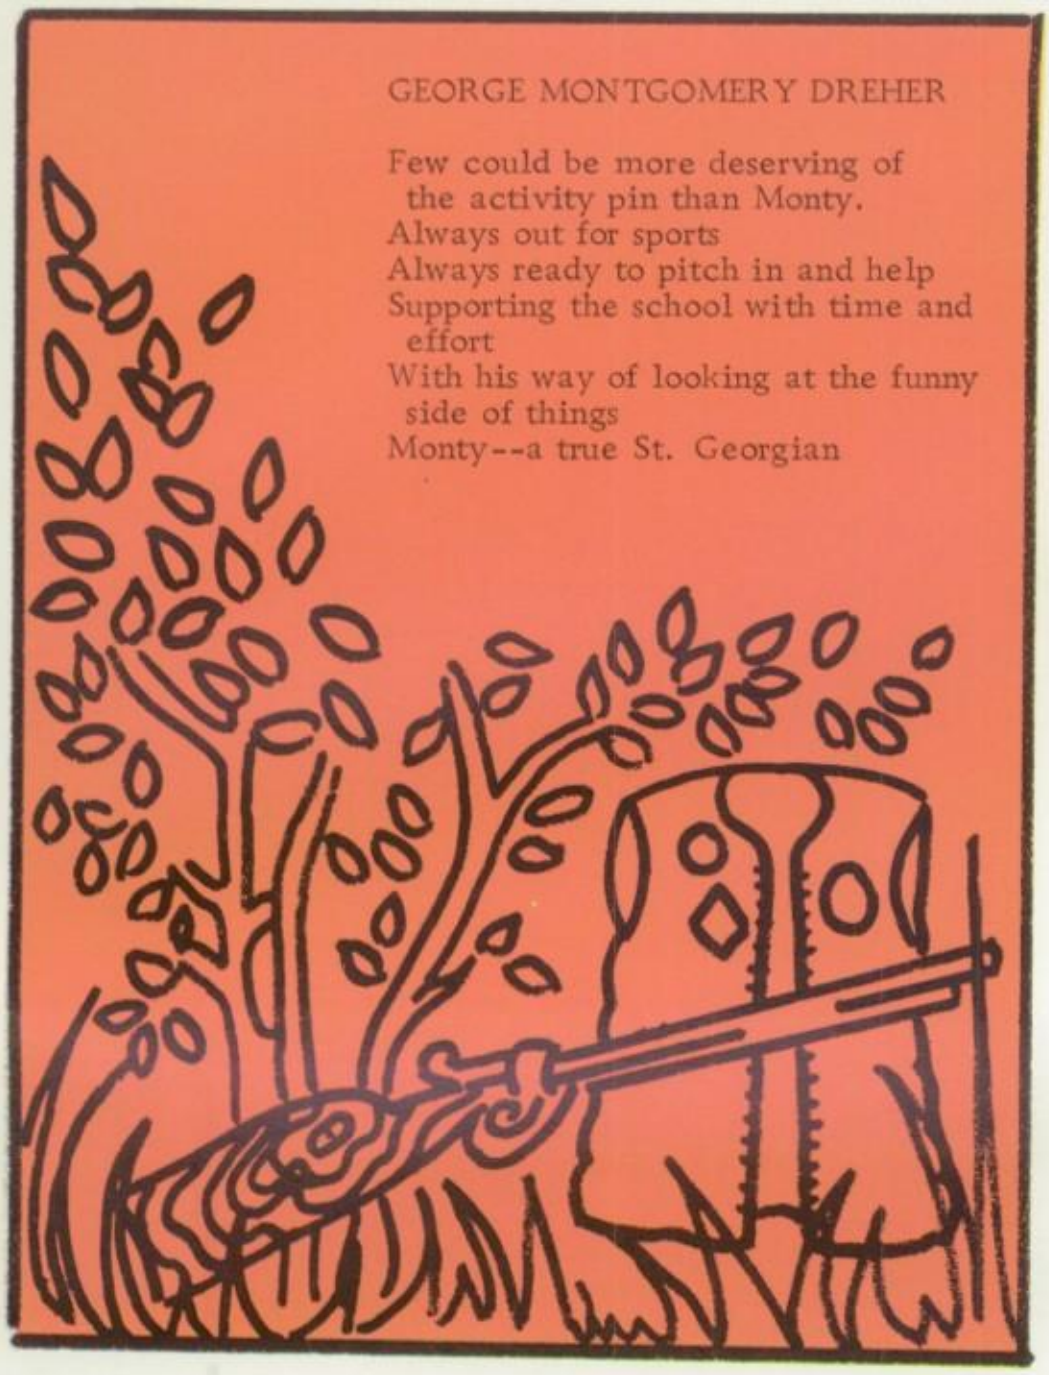
Monty--a true St. Georgian



MARGARET LOUISE COOMBS

Quiet, but honestly alive Deep thoughts coming from within Conservative on the outside,
Yet a rebel to the core.

She knows what she is and what she wants.
She's a step ahead of most of us.

Life is what she wants.
Communication and faith in Him can never be stunted in her.

People step back, draw away.
Are they so blind?
Margie is a REAL person-- Living, loving, doing and THINKING.

KATHERINE BALLINGER FIX

A dancing figure on stage or in the halls.
Rhythmic laughter resounding Deep philosophical thoughts explaining.
A pen in hand drawing figures or writing poetry.
An audience is continually captured by Katherine's creativity and talent.

EDWARD BARNETT FIX

Barney--
Working hard at his books
Working hard on the basketball floor
Driving a blue and white wheel-barrow, always late Kidding around and getting Louie mad
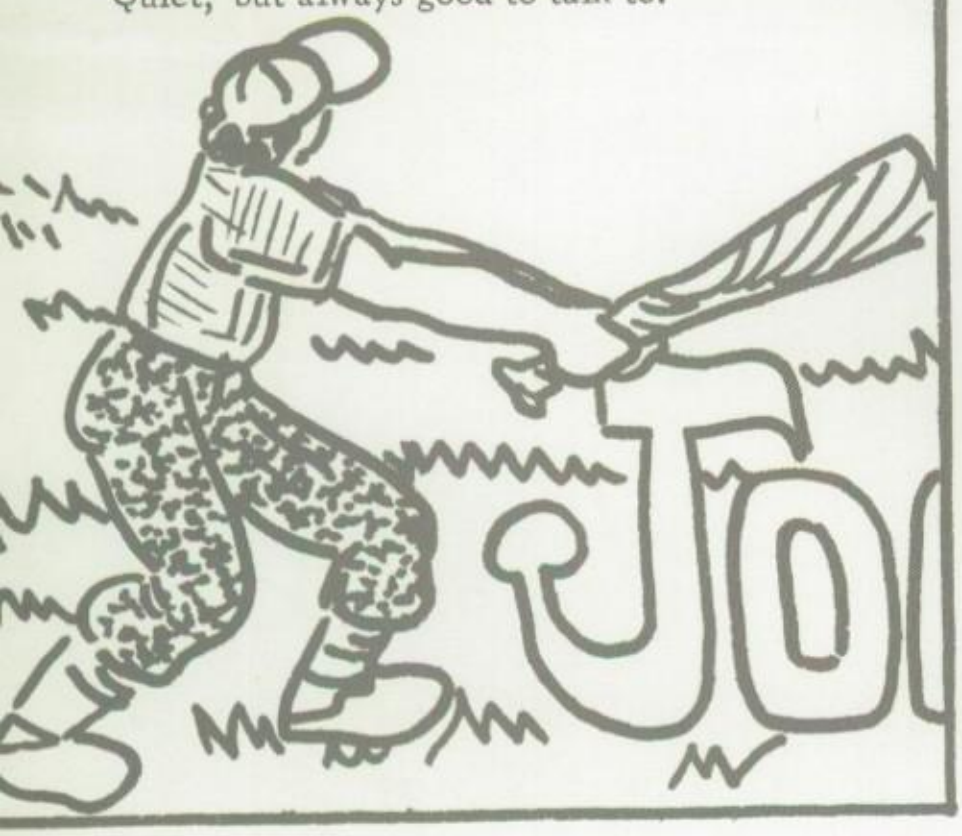
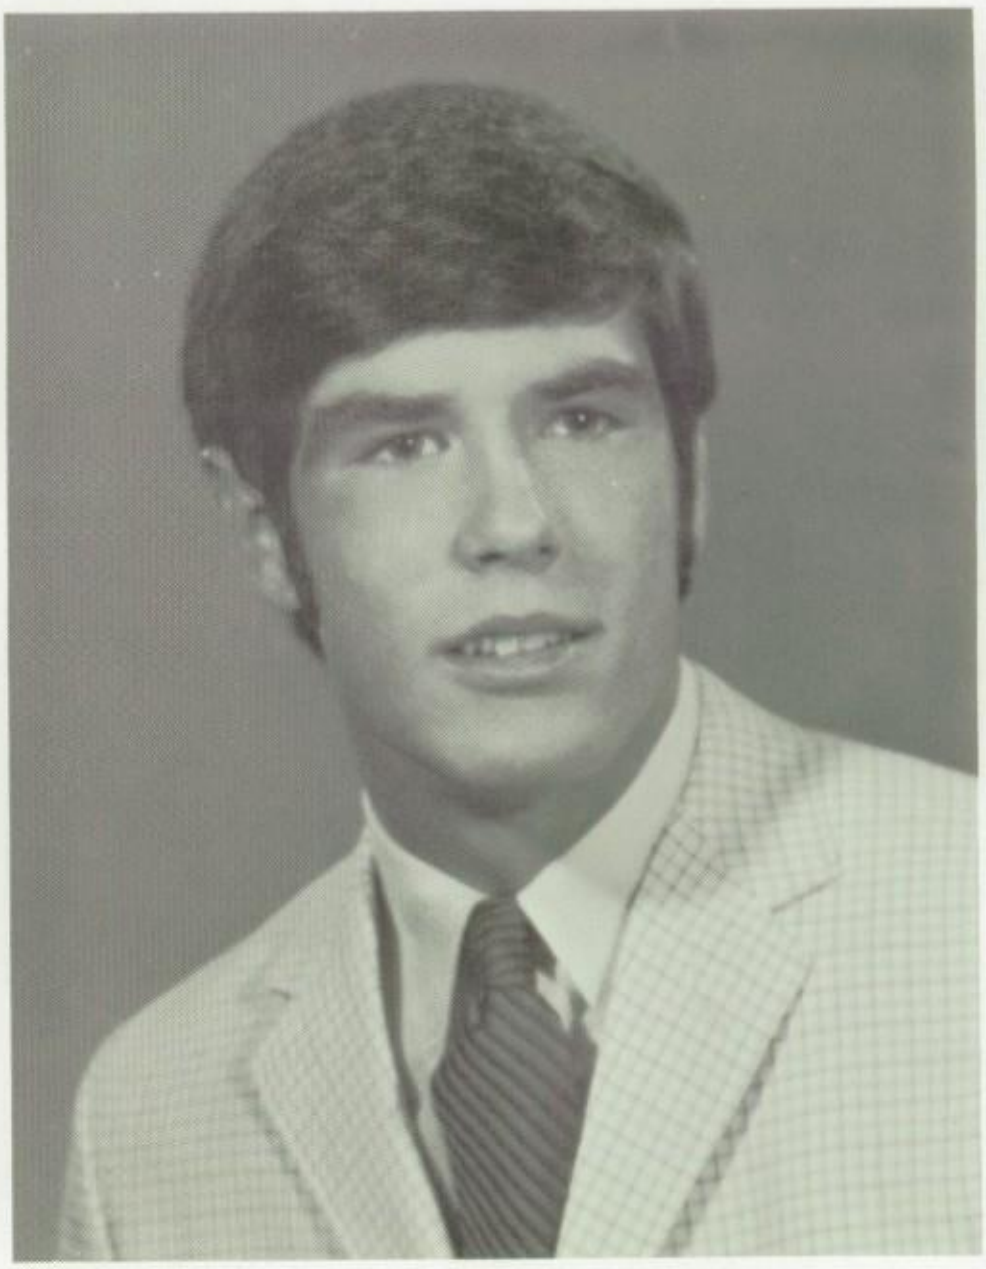
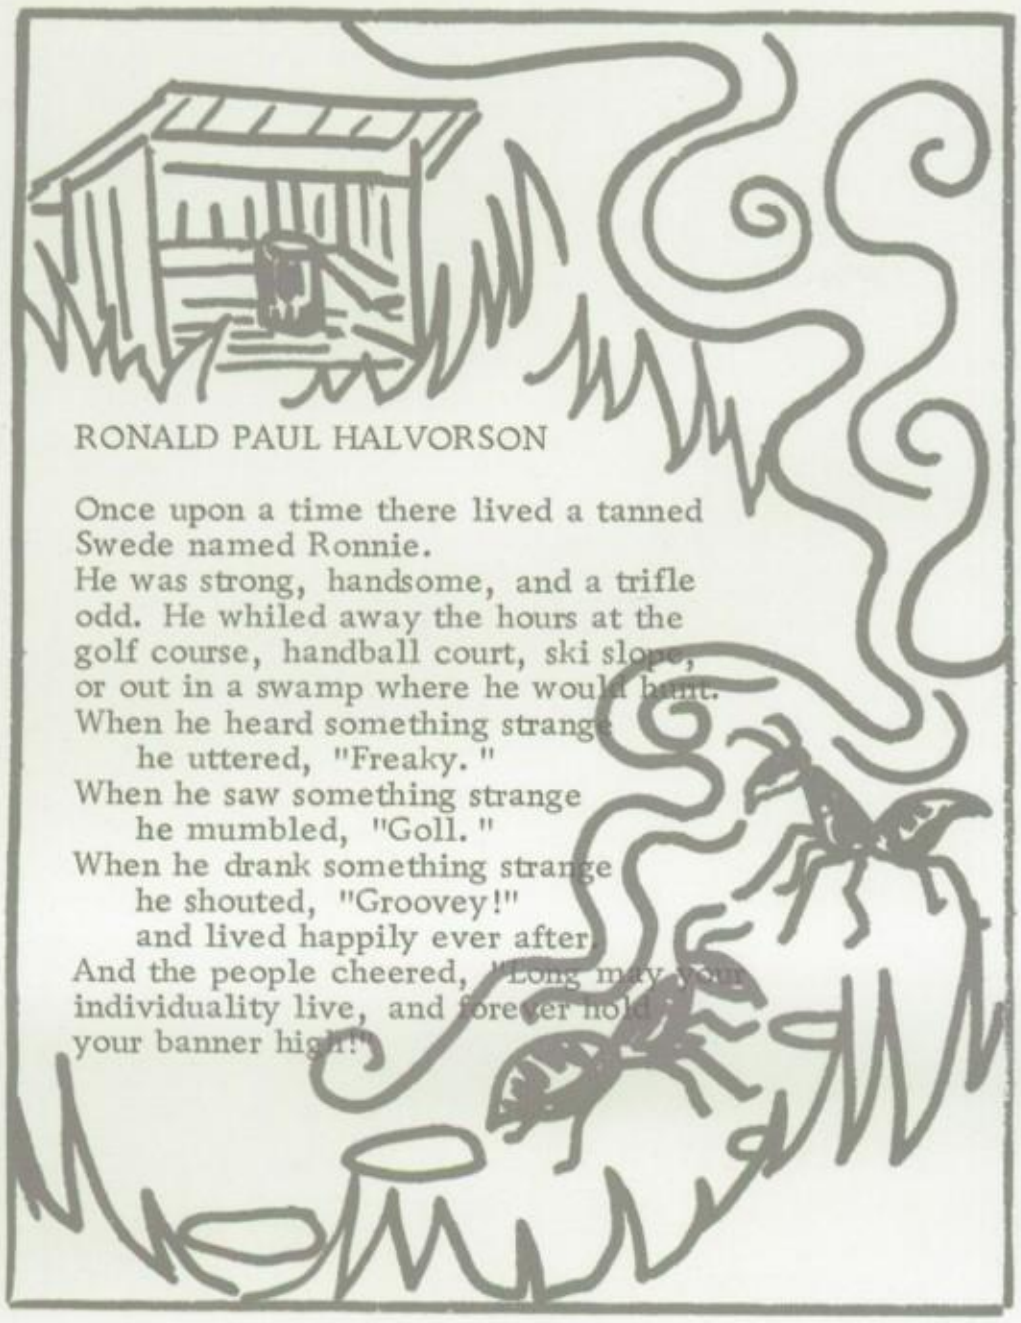
Barney--
Quiet, but always good to talk to.







RONALD PAUL HALVORSON

Once upon a time there lived a tanned Swede named Ronnie.
He was strong, handsome, and a trifle odd. He whiled away the hours at the golf course, handball court, ski slope, or out in a swamp where he would hunt.
When he heard something strange he uttered, "Freaky."
When he saw something strange he mumbled, "Goll."
When he drank something strange he shouted, "Groovey!"
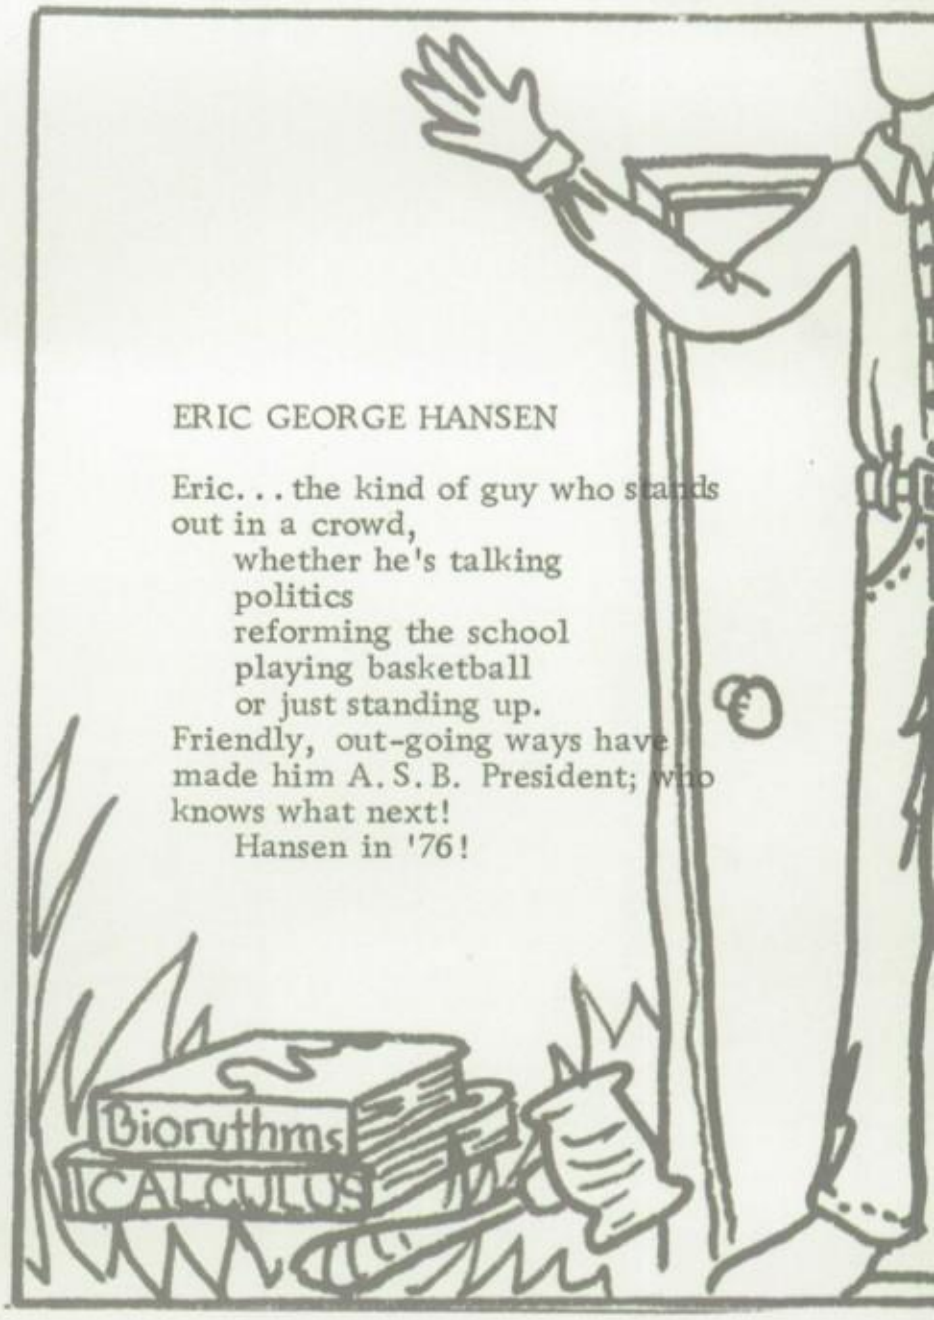
and lived happily ever after.
And the people cheered, "Long may your individuality live, and forever hold your banner high!"



ERIC GEORGE HANSEN

Eric. . . the kind of guy who stands out in a crowd, whether he's talking politics
reforming the school playing basketball or just standing up.
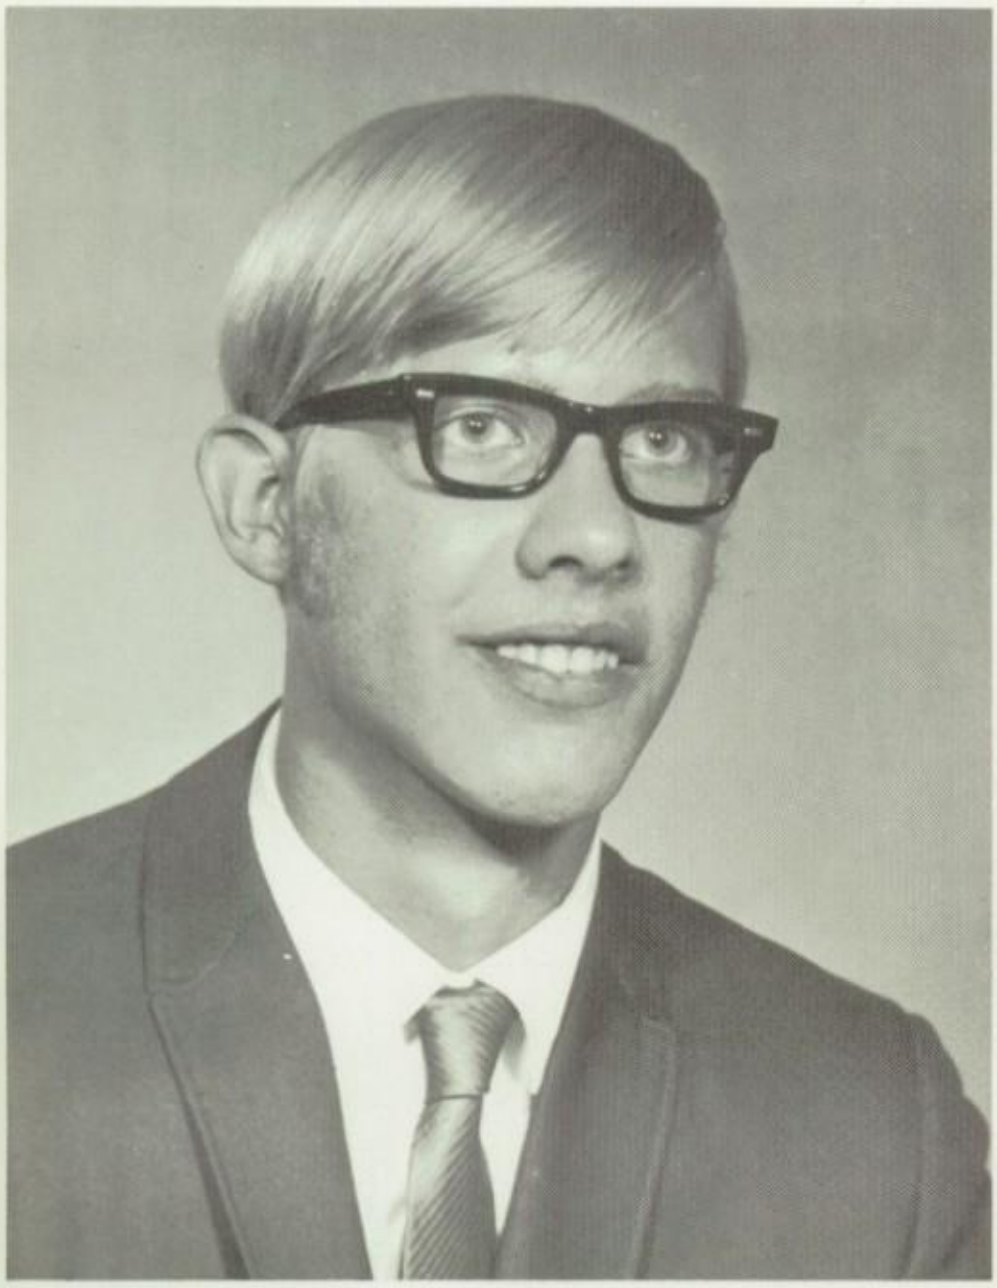
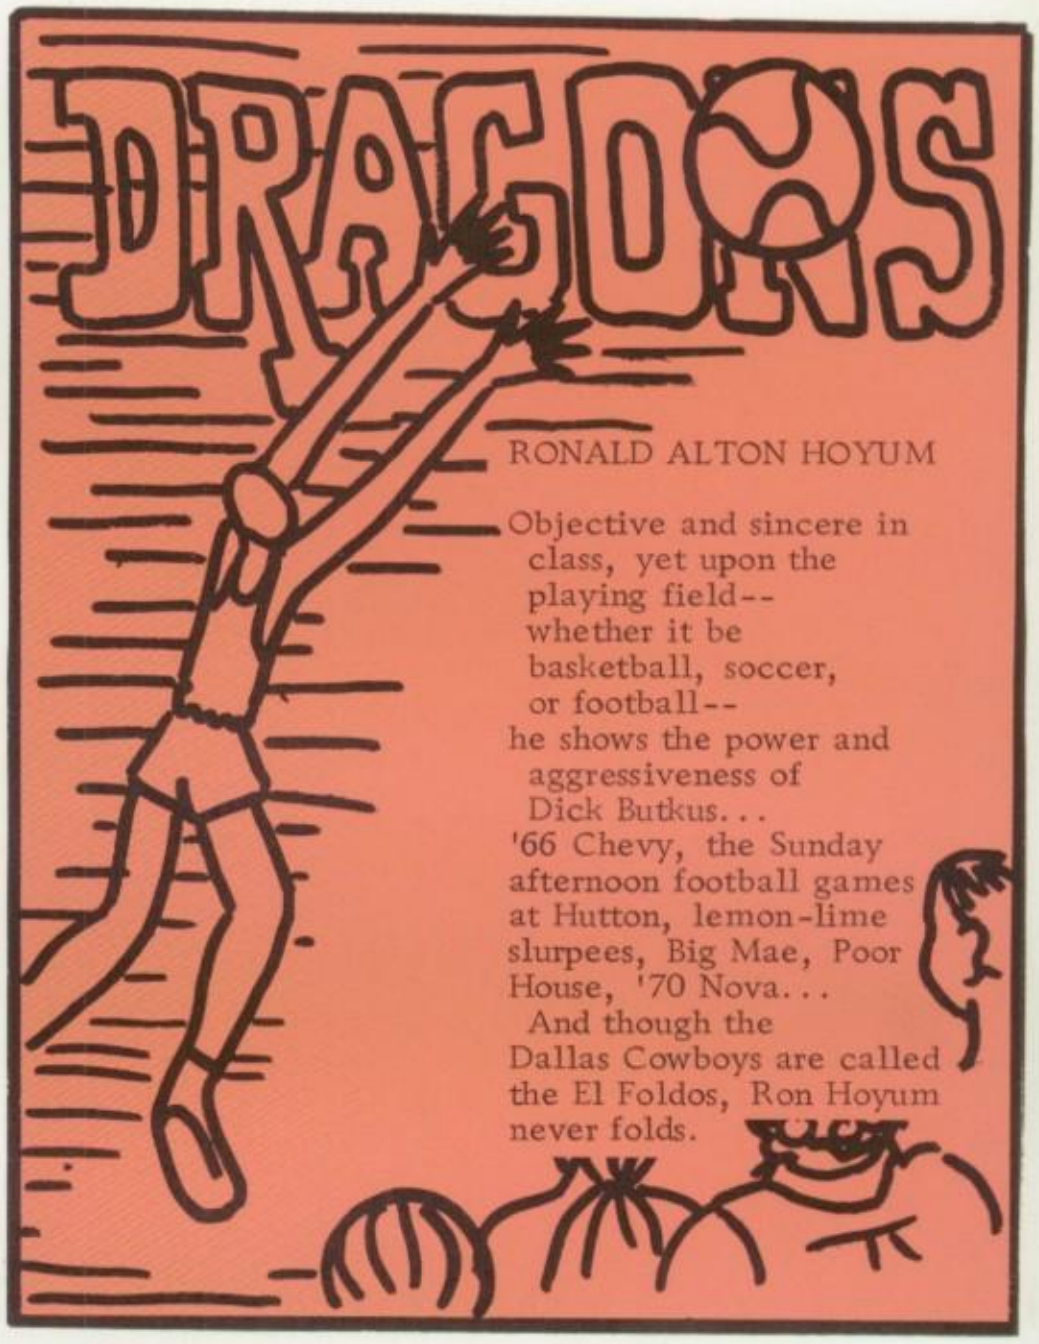
Friendly, out-going ways have made him A. S. B. President; who knows what next!
Hansen in '76!





RONALD ALTON HOYUM

Objective and sincere in class, yet upon the playing field-- whether it be basketball, soccer, or football-- he shows the power and aggressiveness of Dick Butkus. . .
'66 Chevy, the Sunday afternoon football games at Hutton, lemon-lime
slurpees, Big Mae, Poor House, '70 Nova. . .
And though the Dallas Cowboys are called the El Foldos, Ron Hoyum never folds.

MONTY JOE JACKSON

A new student is always a welcome addition to a class.
Monty quickly became popular, amazing us all with his Le Mans driving and blueberry cigars.
A true individual with a quick mind and sincere personality.
We soon forgot his newness and he became a close friend.

SARAH BERLIN JENSEN

Who eats Chicken-In-A-Mug one week and food-trips the next?
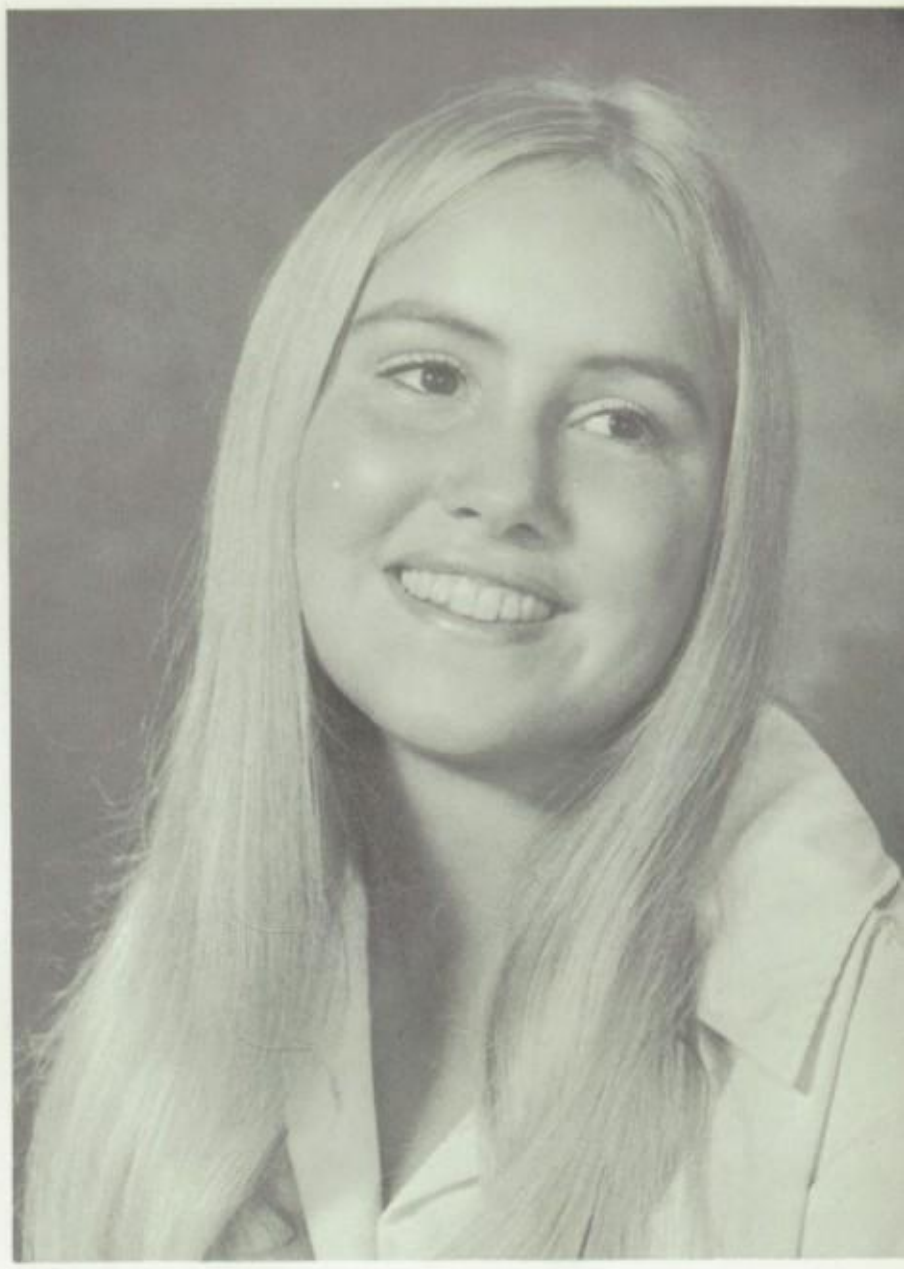
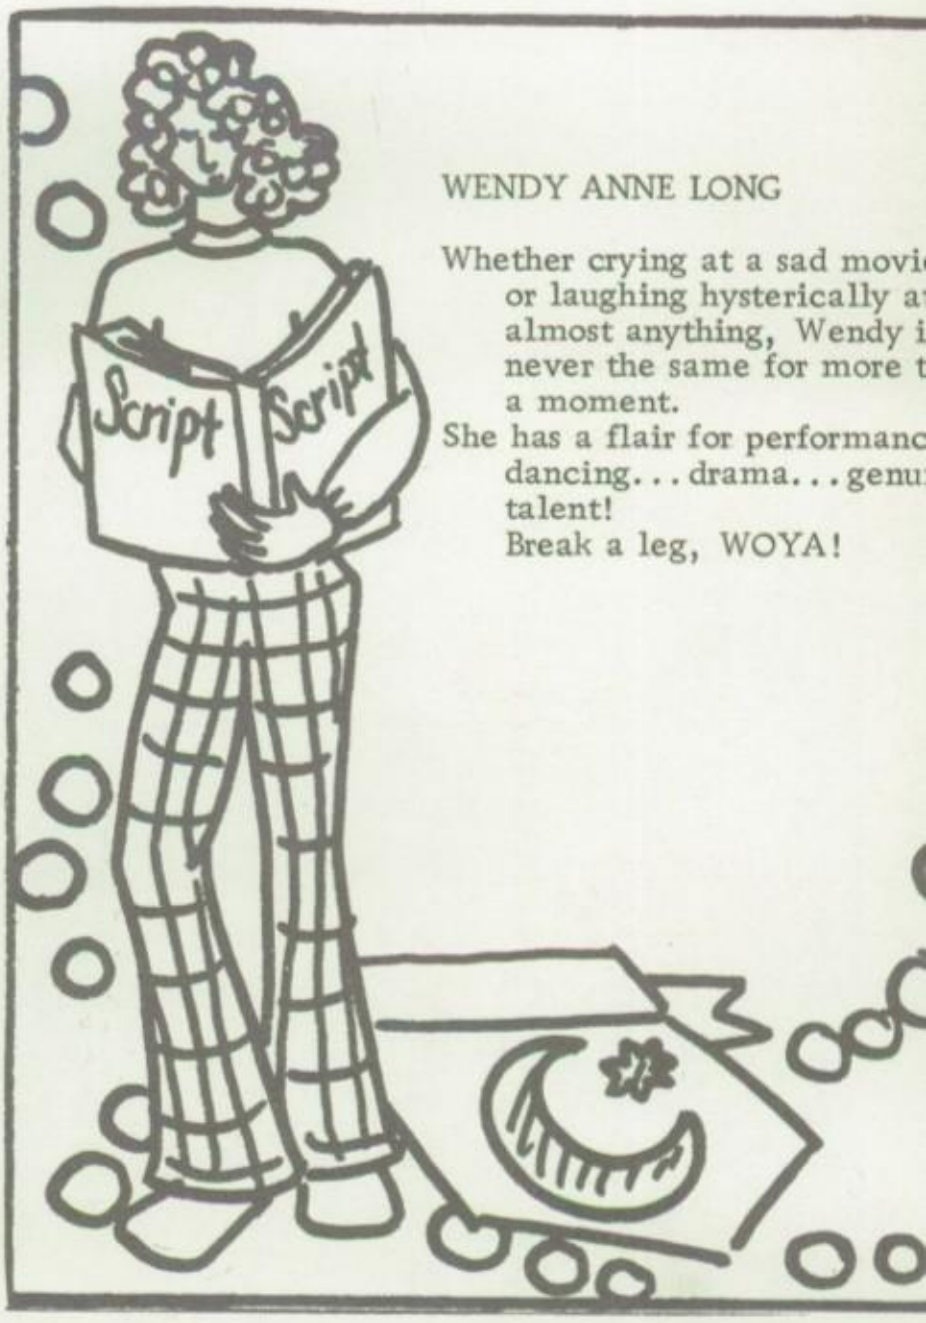
Sally! She's ready and eager to meet people (especially boys), and she's always on the go... cheerleading... golfing... singing... laughing... smiling...
Not an easy person to miss!
That's Sal!





WENDY ANNE LONG

Whether crying at a sad movi or laughing hysterically a almost anything, Wendy i never the same for more t a moment.
She has a flair for performanc dancing... drama... genu talent!
Break a leg, WOYA!

WILLIAM WEIR MAIN IV

Bill came here in his junior year;
Unification was his cheer.
His wire-rimmed glasses
Activated the classes.
Sports cars, tobacco, and people freak
He certainly proved that he wasn't weak.
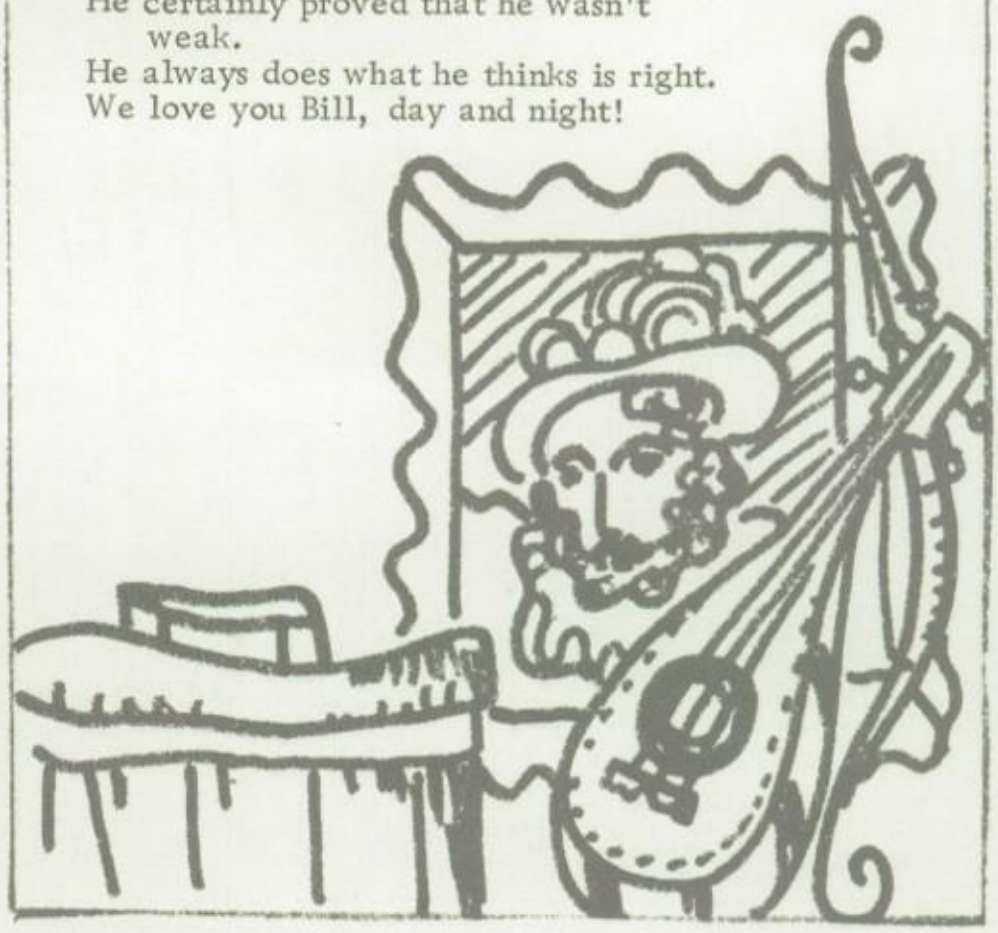
He always does what he thinks is right.
We love you Bill, day and night!



KATHERINE LEE MOTE

Lively
Bouncing down the hall, there's Kathy with a smile and a long, black poncho.
Whether it's handing out weeds for presents, a quiet walk in the rain, or finding another ingenious way to get out of P.E. -- Kathy is putting her whole self into it.
Embracing every moment of life
Knowing the world and loving it.

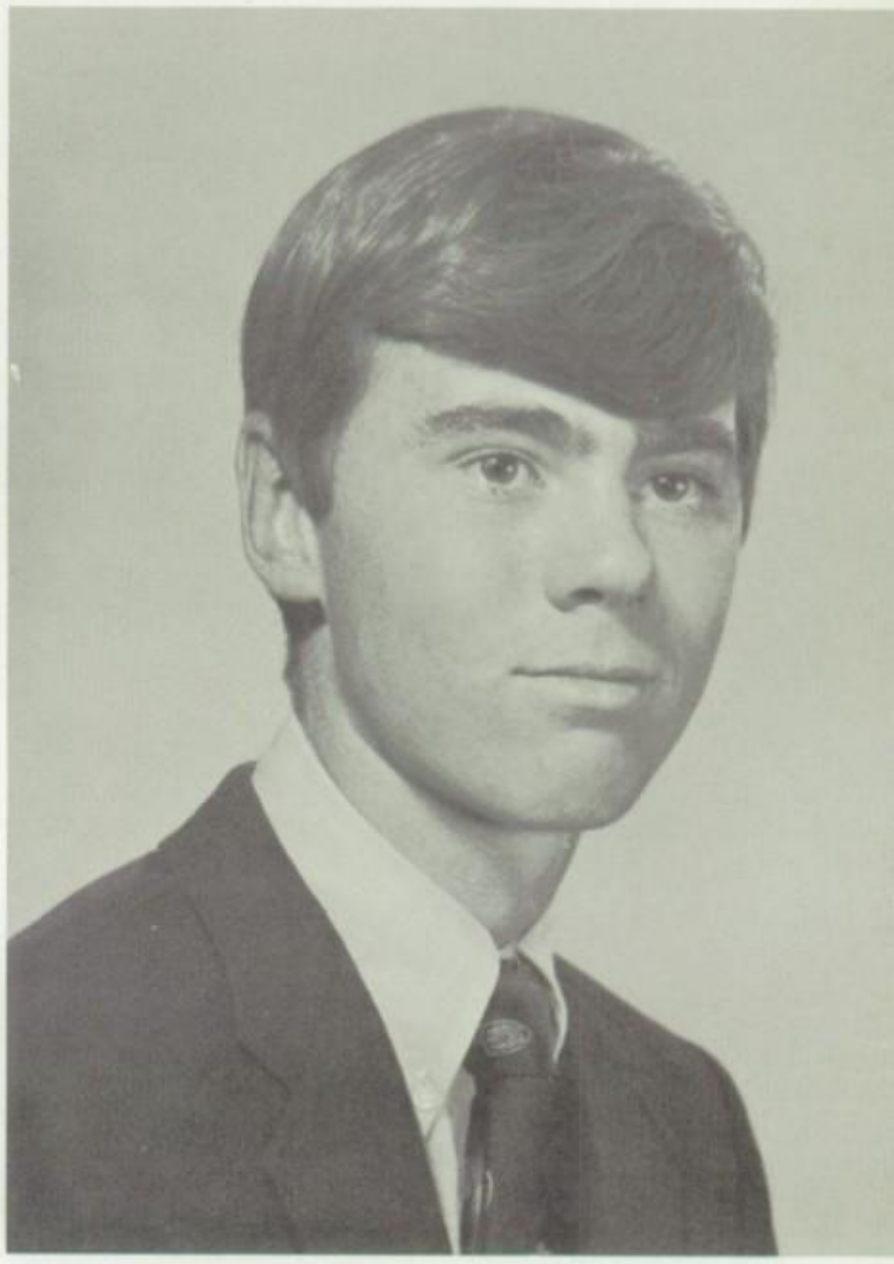
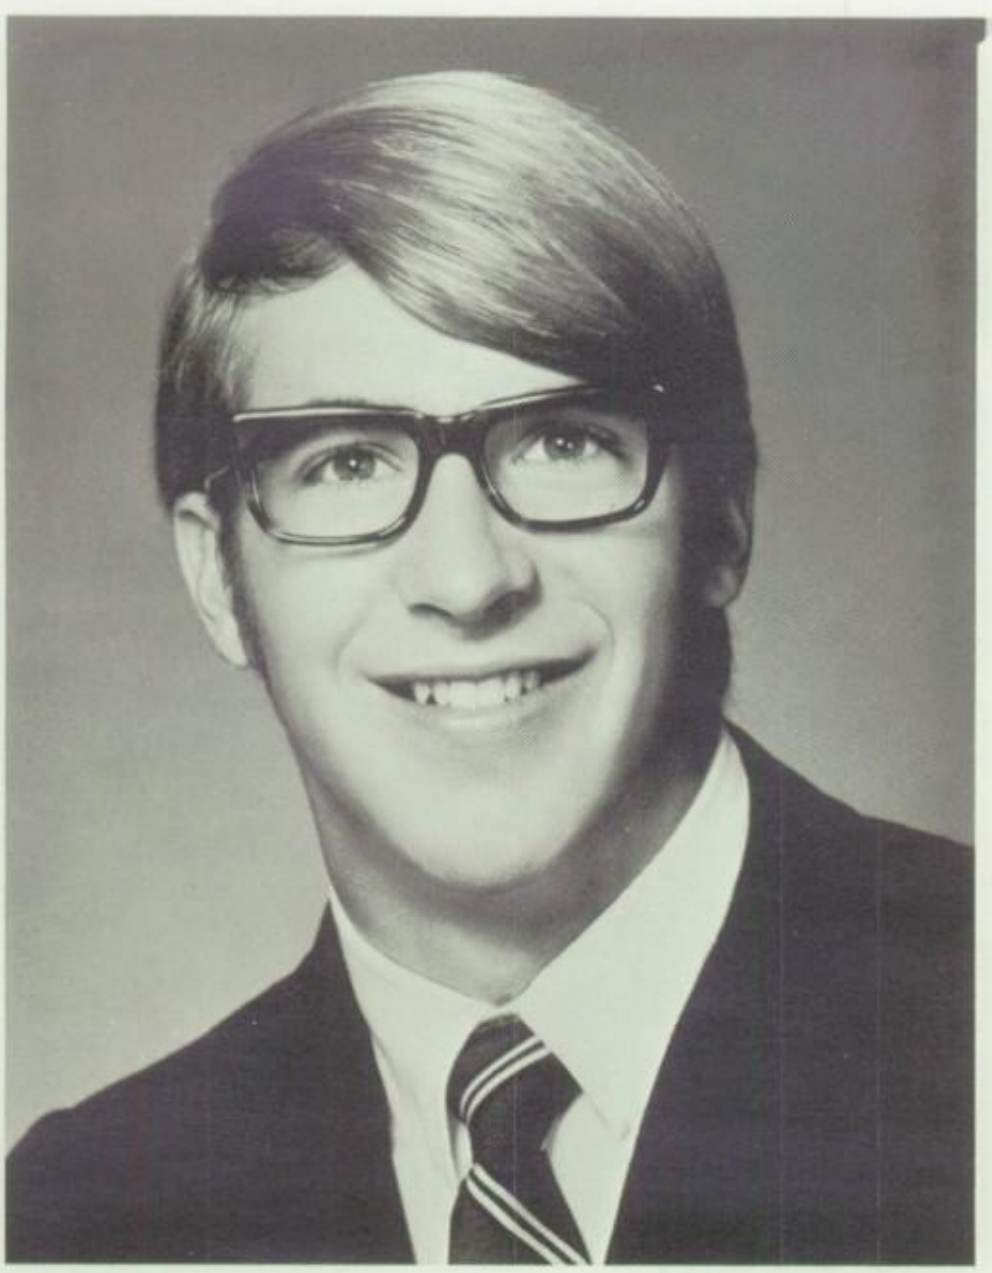
THOMAS WILLIAM PHILLIPS

Long Tom Phillips. . . who is he?
A comedian. . . maybe, ask Zobrist,
A student. . . possibly,
A golfer. . . probably,
A friend. . . yes.
One has to know and understand
Tom or really miss something in life.





JOHN WAKEFIELD NICHOLSON

What's in Boofer's world?
"Where'd that Arab Bubba go?"
Enthusiastic, willing. . . soccer. . .
basketball and the fast break. . .
baseball. . .
"John, those are not regulation
P. E. shorts."
From quiet walks outside to deafening yells from the bench
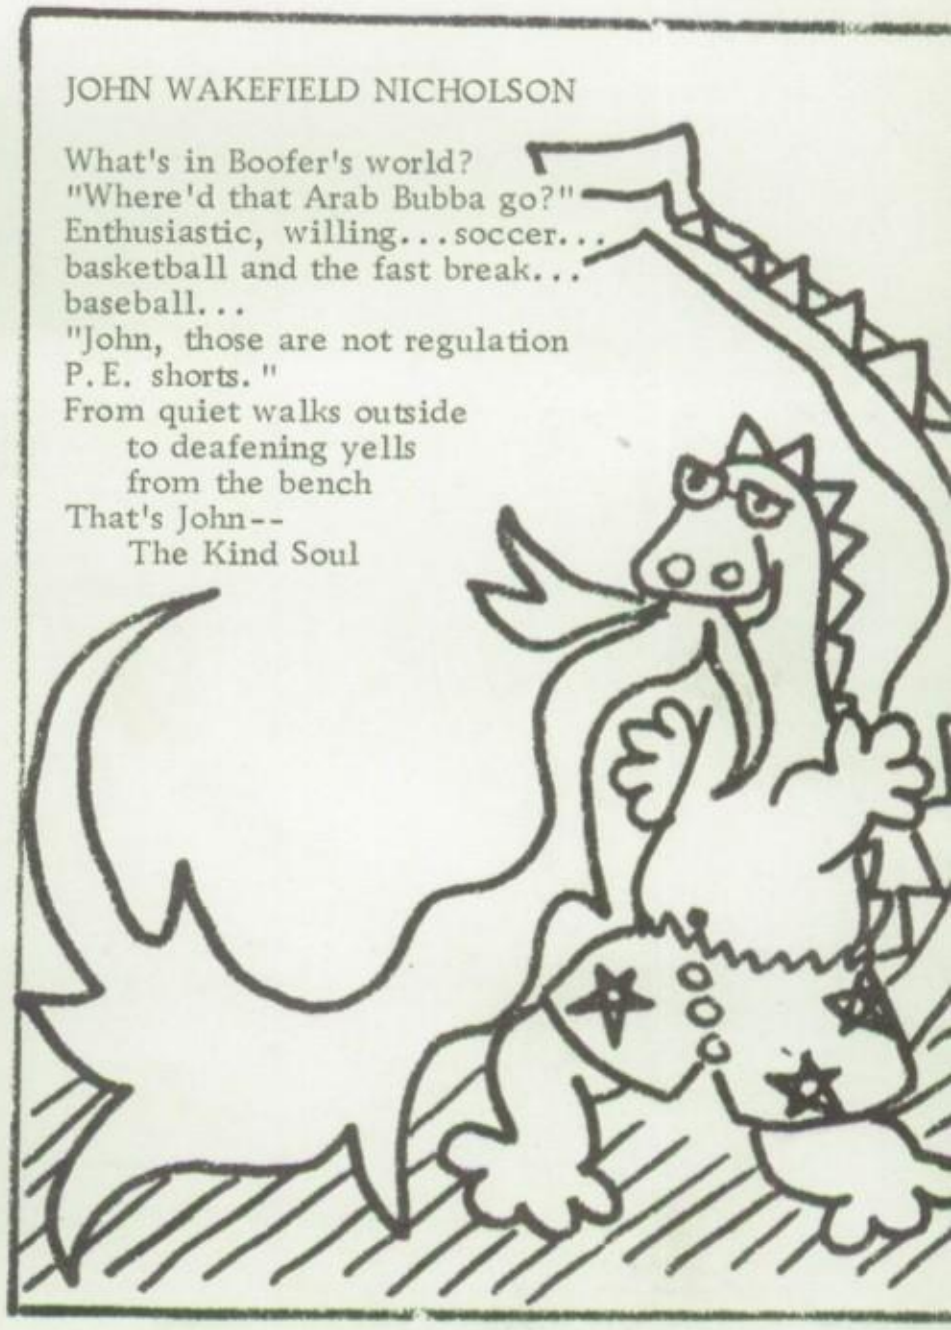
That's John--
The Kind Soul

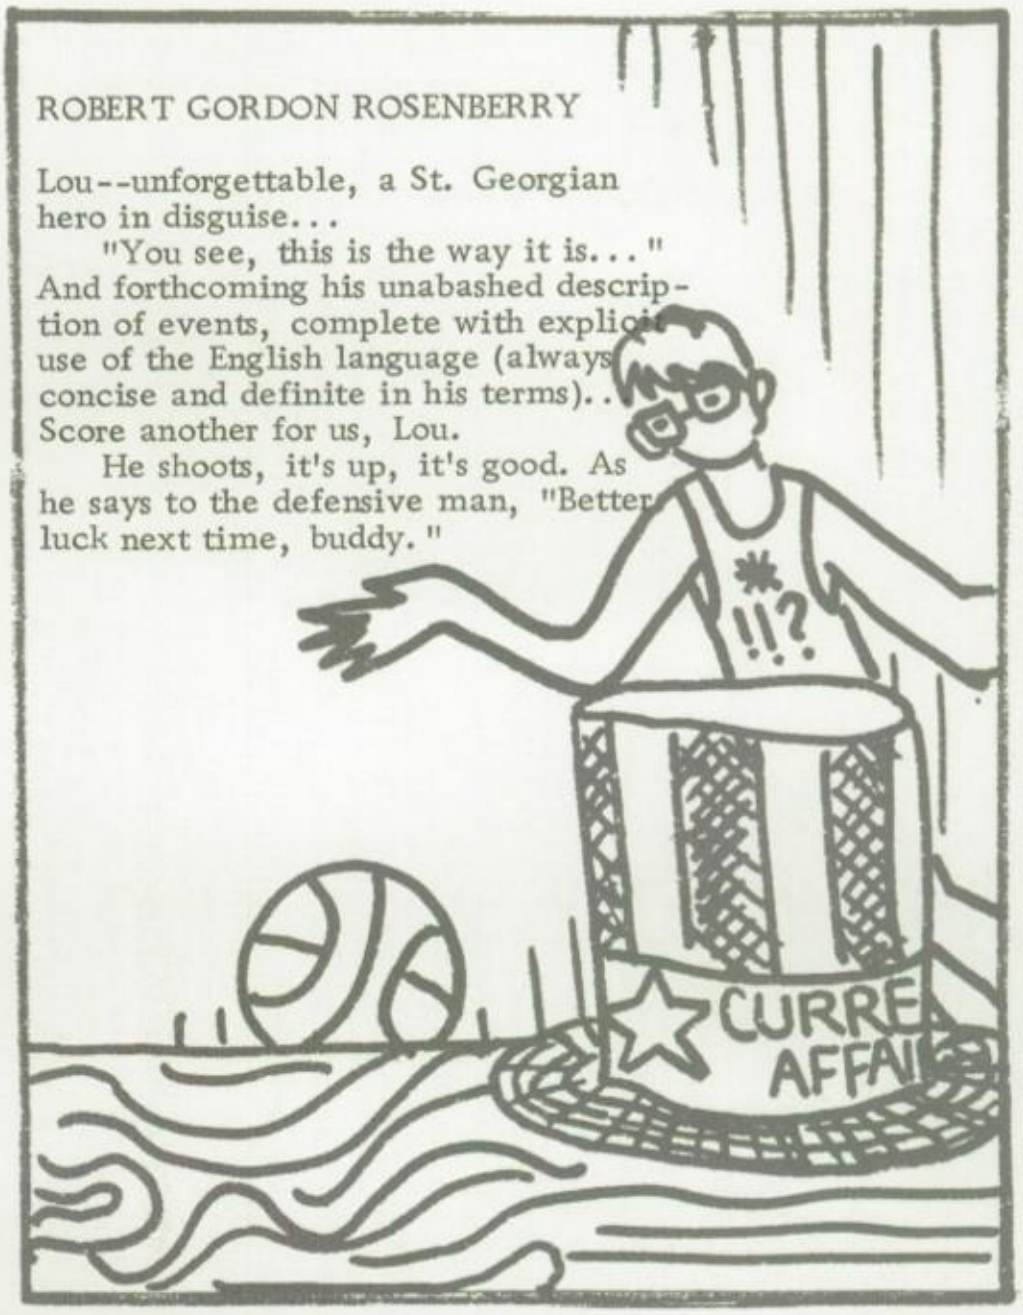


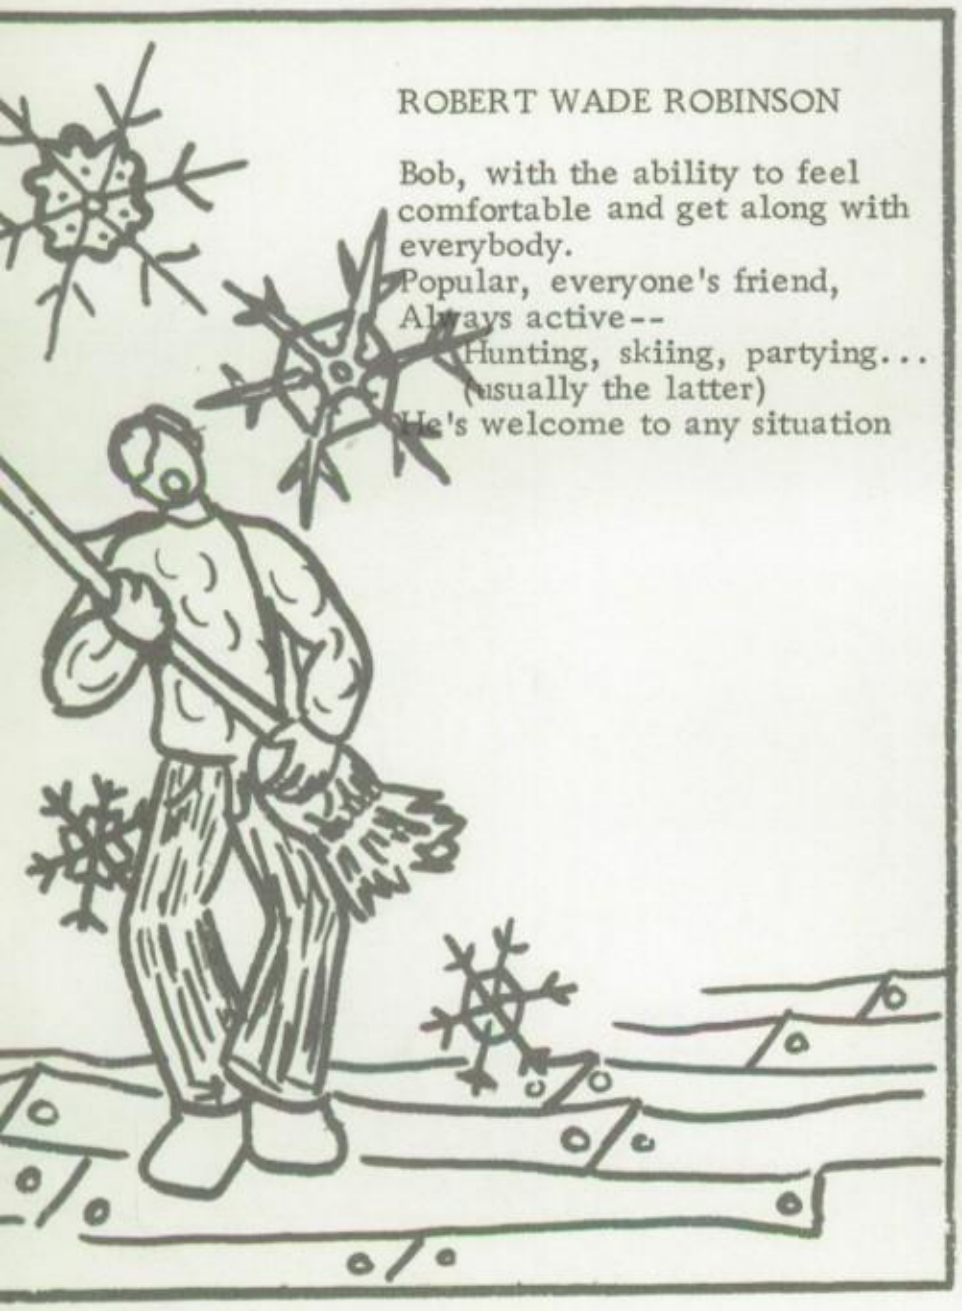
ROBERT GORDON ROSENBERRY

Lou--unforgettable, a St. Georgian hero in disguise...

"You see, this is the way it is..." And forthcoming his unabashed description of events, complete with explicit use of the English language (always concise and definite in his terms)... Score another for us, Lou.

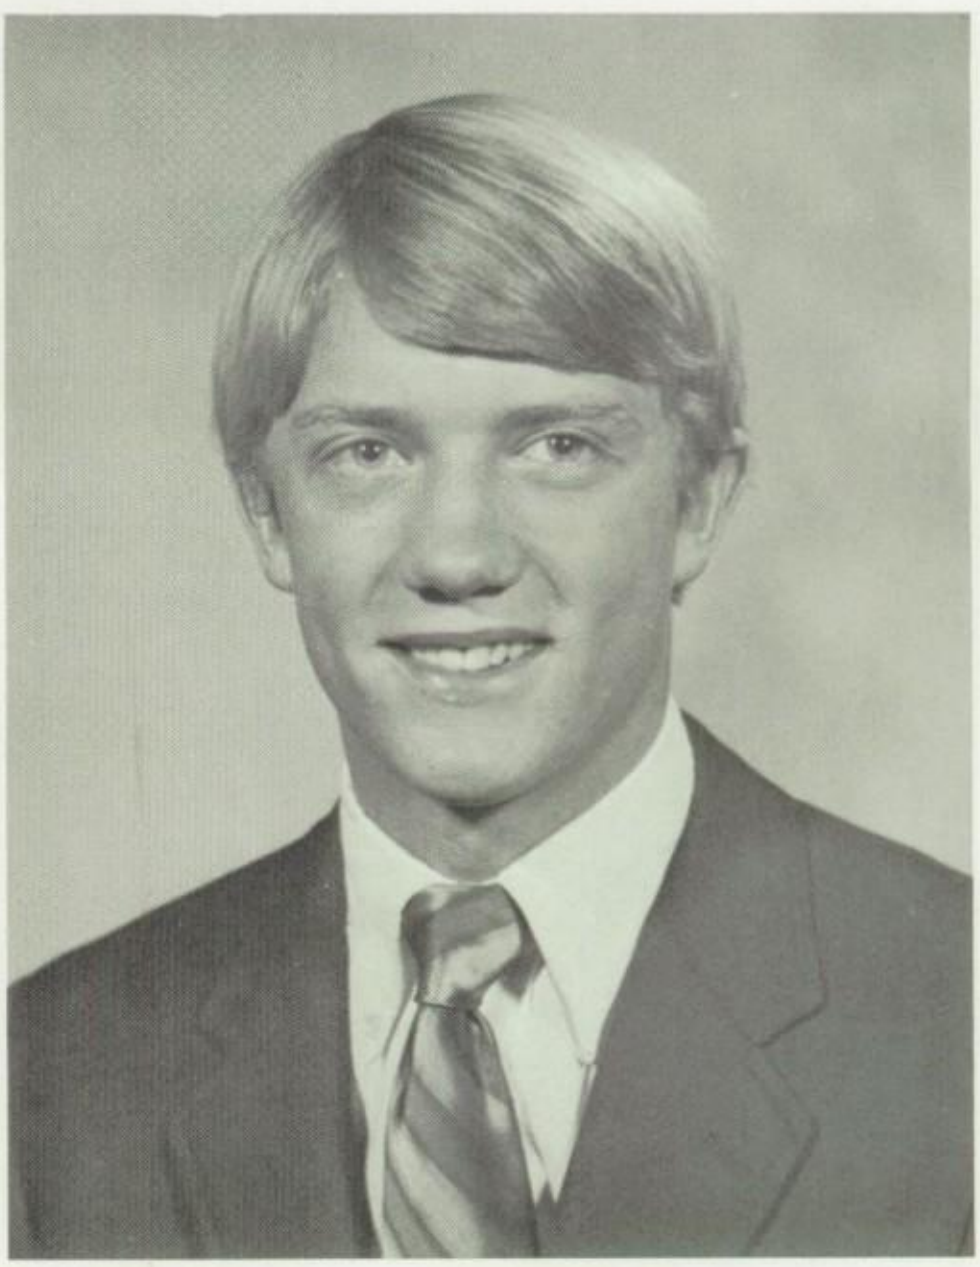
He shoots, it's up, it's good. As he says to the defensive man, "Better luck next time, buddy."





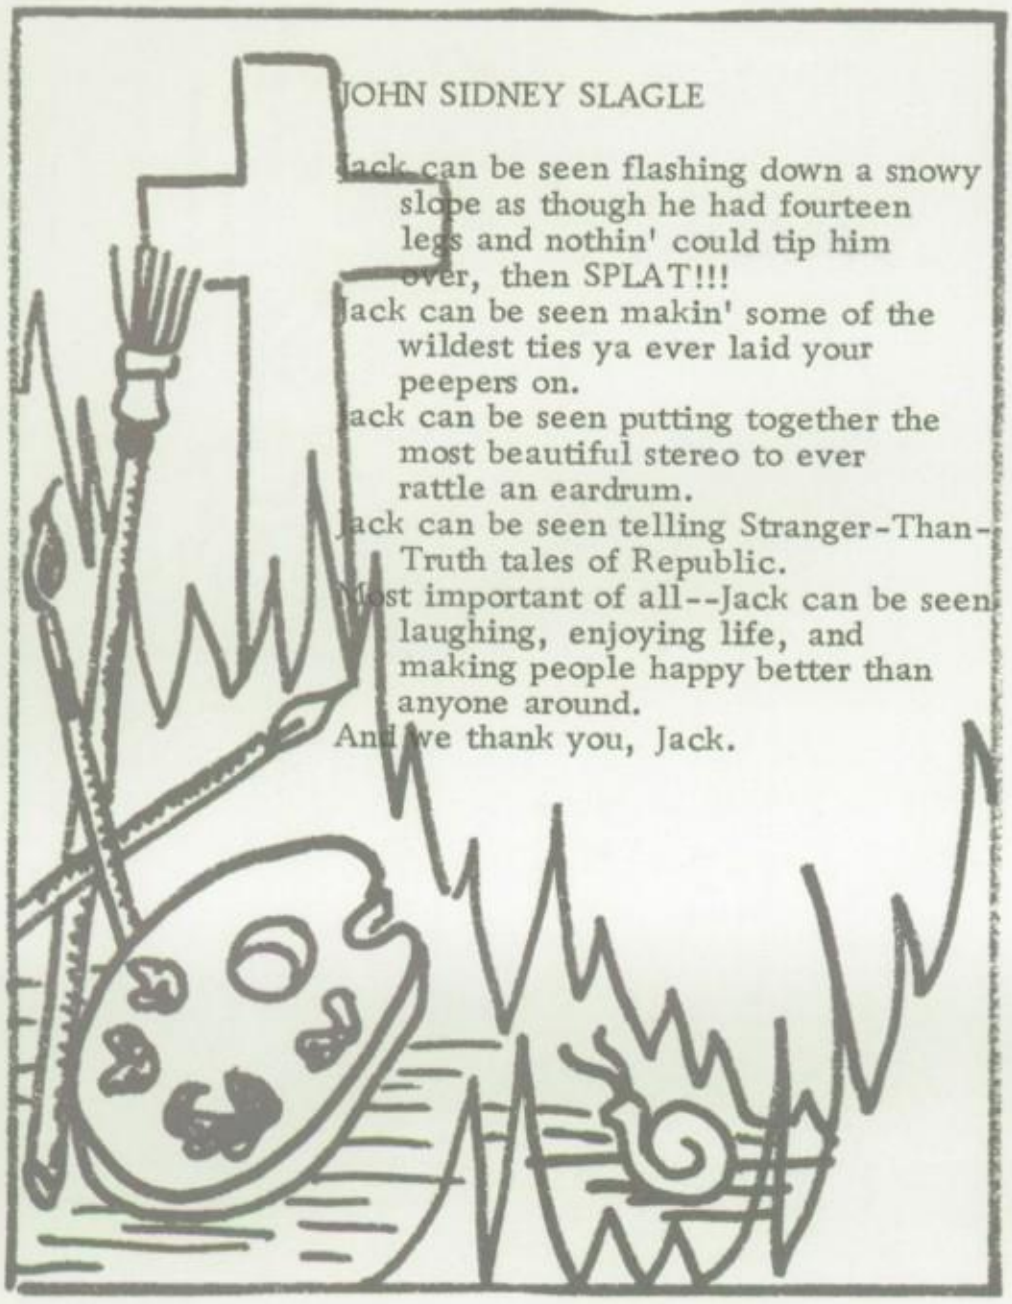
ROBERT WADE ROBINSON

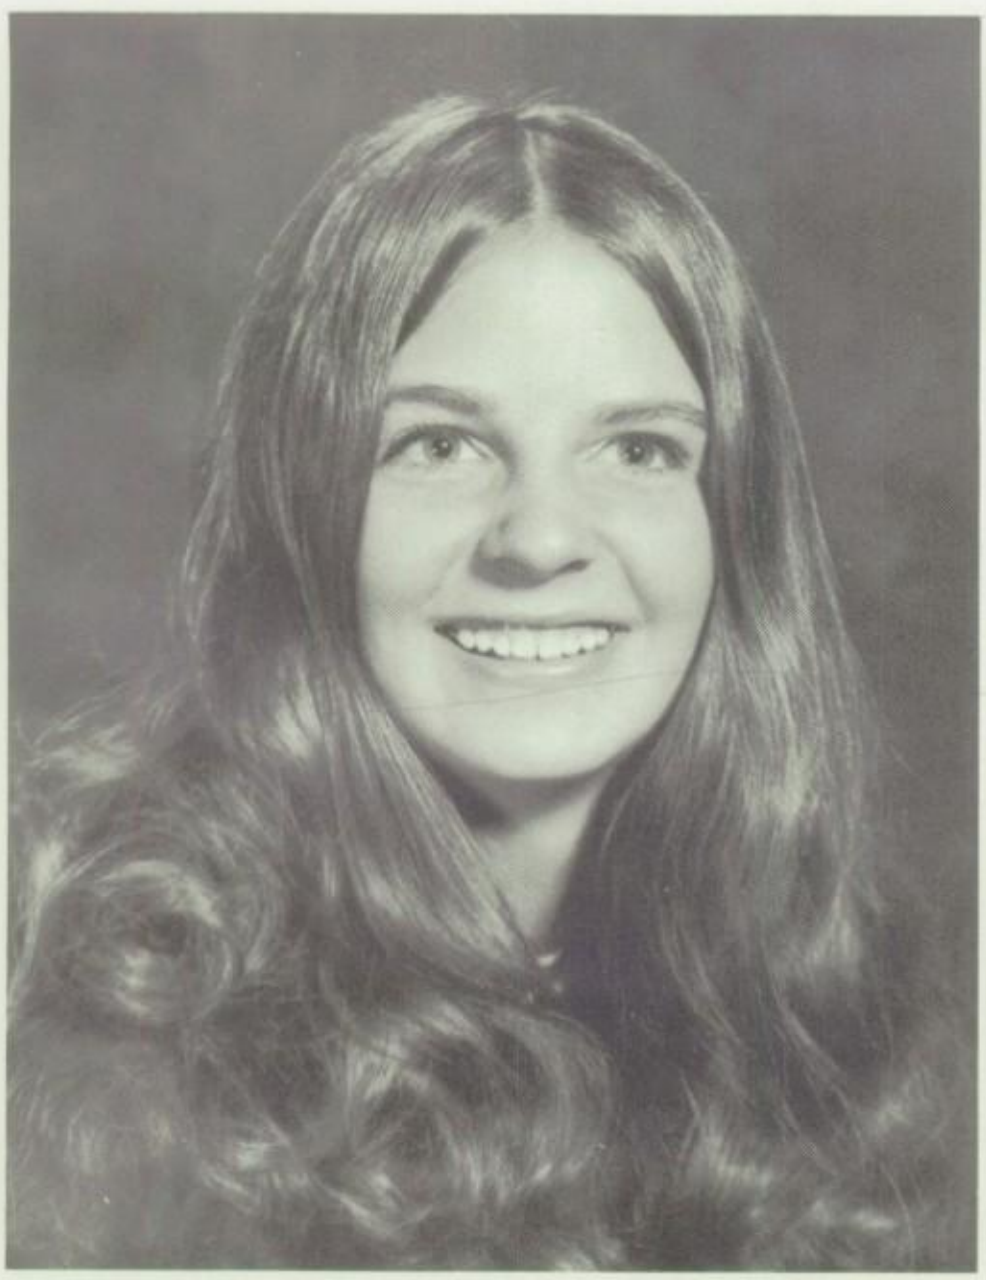
Bob, with the ability to feel comfortable and get along with everybody.
Popular, everyone's friend,
Always active--
Hunting, skiing, partying...
(usually the latter)
He's welcome to any situation



JOHN SIDNEY SLAGLE

Jack can be seen flashing down a snowy slope as though he had fourteen legs and nothin' could tip him over, then SPLAT!!!
Jack can be seen makin' some of the wildest ties ya ever laid your peepers on.
Jack can be seen putting together the most beautiful stereo to ever rattle an eardrum.
Jack can be seen telling Stranger-Than-Truth tales of Republic.
Most important of all--Jack can be seen laughing, enjoying life, and making people happy better than anyone around.
And we thank you, Jack.





DEBORAH ELLEN SHAFFER

Traversing down a ski slope
Gliding over a lake
Cruising in her Cooty Bug or beating the rhythm to Chicago.
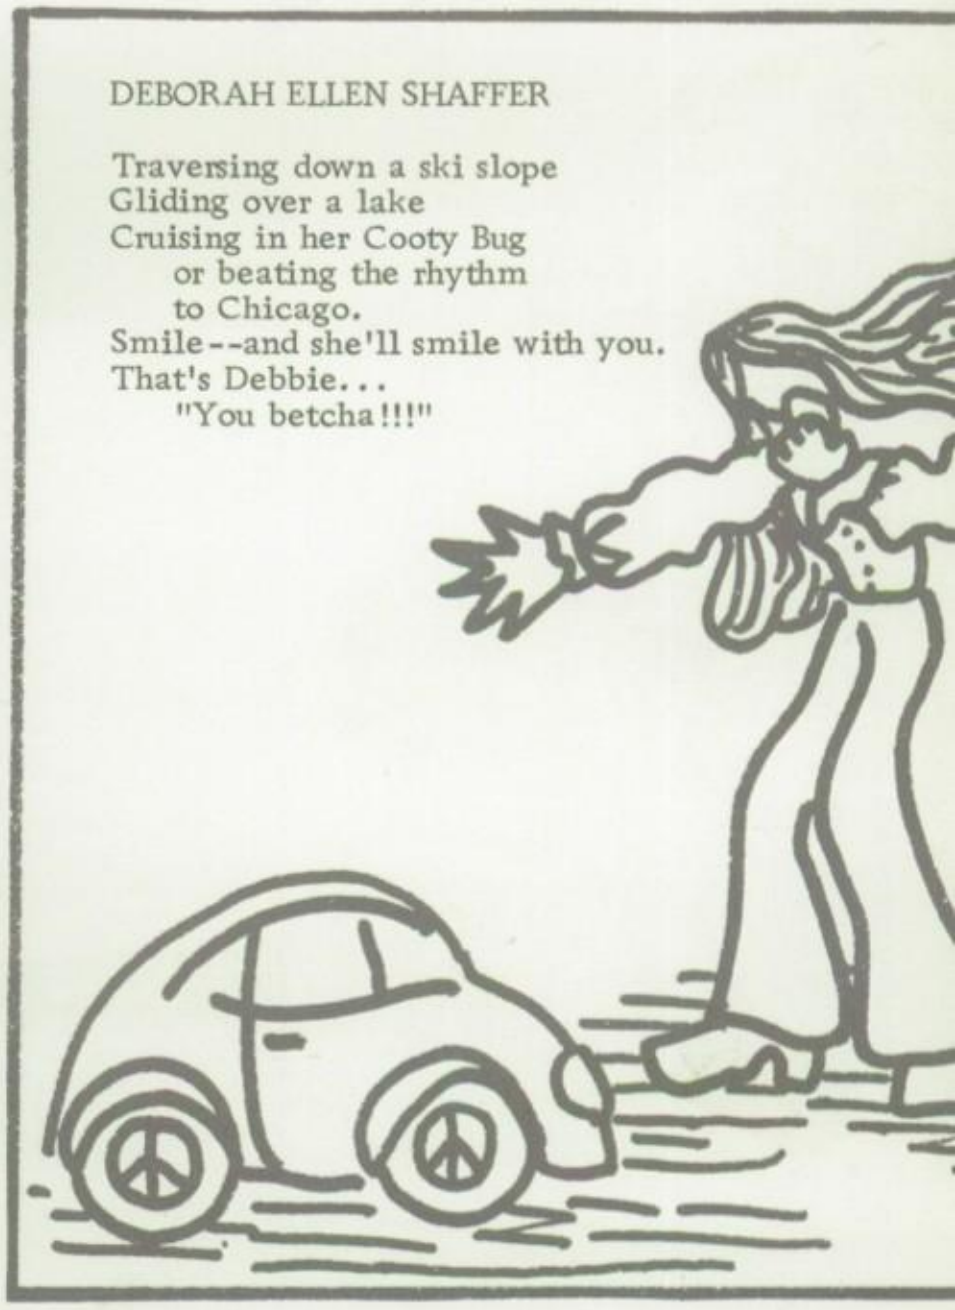
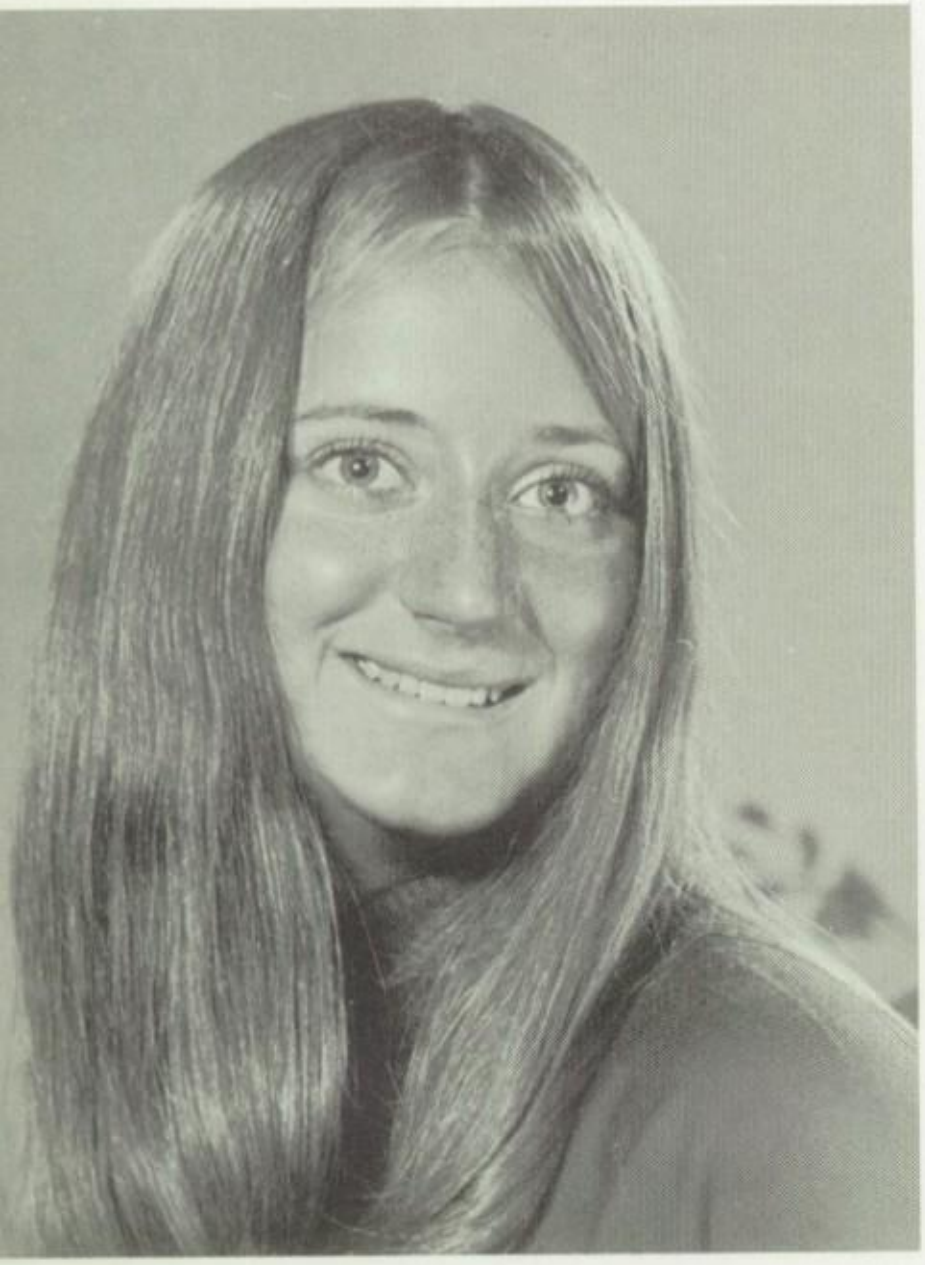
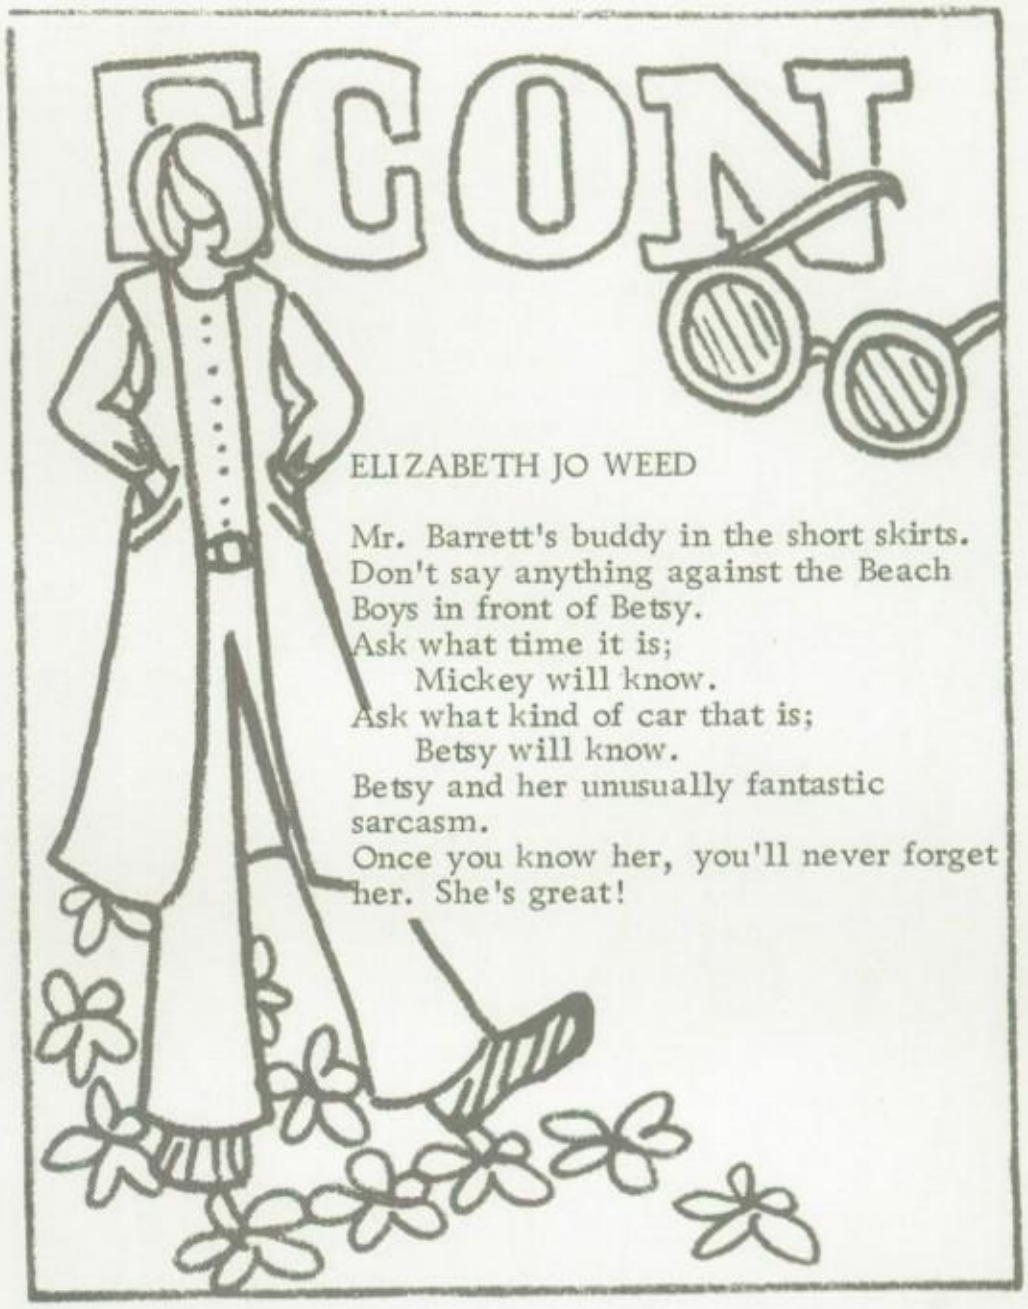
Smile--and she'll smile with you.
That's Debbie...
"You betcha!!!"







ELIZABETH JO WEED

Mr. Barrett's buddy in the short skirts.
Don't say anything against the Beach Boys in front of Betsy.
Ask what time it is;
Mickey will know.
Ask what kind of car that is;
Betsy will know.
Betsy and her unusually fantastic sarcasm.
Once you know her, you'll never forget her. She's great!

ELIZABETH TRACY TURNER

There goes Tracy, in a blue Mercedes Behind the scenes in a play
In the midst of a leaf fight or snowball fight
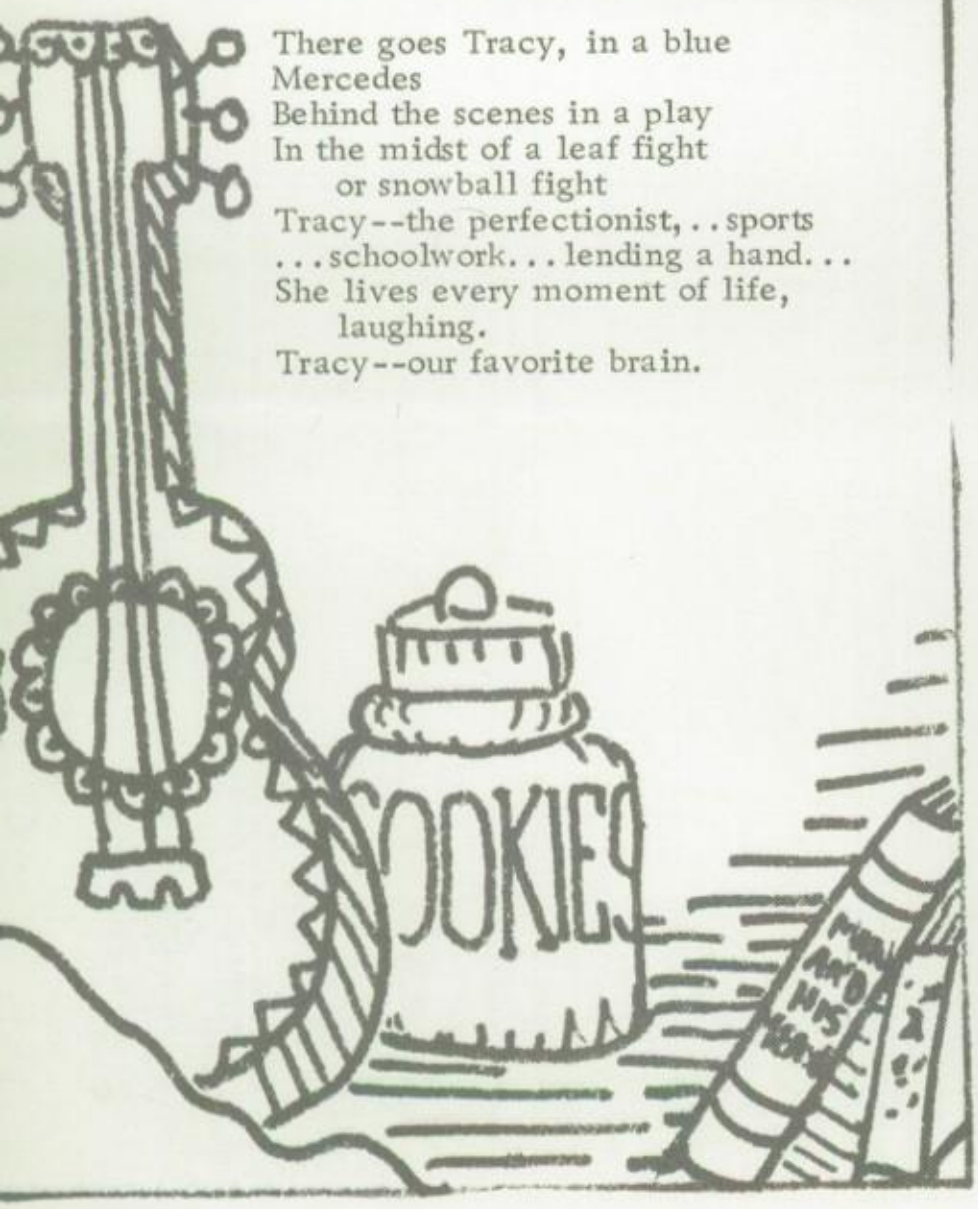
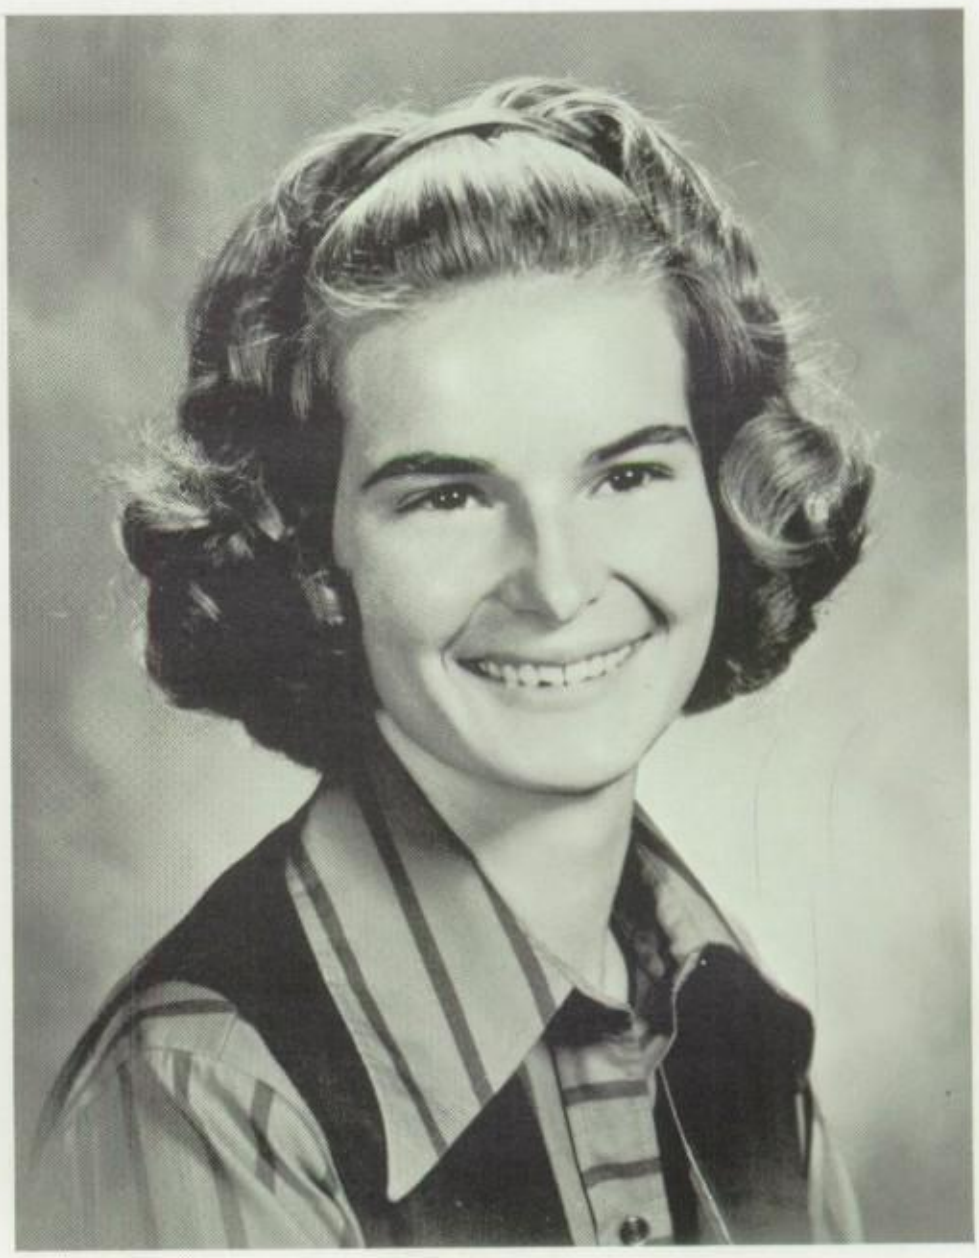
Tracy--the perfectionist, . . sports
. . . schoolwork. . . lending a hand. . .
She lives every moment of life,
laughing.
Tracy--our favorite brain.





WILLIAM FREDERICK ZOBRIST III

Bill--quite at home on the basketball court, football field, or baseball diamond...
Excelling in sports and possessing a rare, quick, and sometimes even cutting wit...
So talented with a deadly shooting ability he has gained a reputation:
One of the all time greats in Biology Table Top Golf History.

KEVAN FRED WHITE

May joy corrupt the world!
Come, follow me,
--to fall in love with furry little animals and share a silver smile
--to celebrate these ragged momen of freedom.

FACULTY

Here within these pages
Lives an ideal,
A place to impart, to share, to learn--
A planning house for the future.
This is the foundation
The intellectual stimulus.
Here, in a land of timber and greenery Grows the dedication of those within.
As students walk through silent halls,
Empty, because the classrooms are full,
We see a student clouded and lost in thought
In progress through knowledge.
Somewhere, another opens a book.
The day the two meet,
Timbers and greenery turn to education
A teacher speaks
A student listens
Another voice is heard
Suddenly a union forms
A bond is joined
This is the final search
A student on his own Working, collecting, collating, and saving for the future.
Here are the tools given-- a place to study
to work to grow
to live to climb upward
in a final self-searching FOR PERFECTION

And when we leave, we leave no longer as children
Nor quite as adults--
Lives still to be molded by challenges yet to come
Many individuals, facilities, and ideals
IN UNISON
THAT'S ST. GEORGE'S.
